IKE CALLS FOR UNITED AMERICA

Macmillan to Succeed Eden

Conservative Favorite New Prime Minister

LONDON (UP) — Harold Macmillan was named prime minister to succeed Sir Anthony Eden today.

Macmillan, 62-year-old former chancellor of the exchequer and favorite of right wing Conservatives, was asked to form a new government by Queen Elizabeth II during a visit to Buckingham Palace this afternoon.

Harold Macmillan

Sir Anthony Eden

Thus, just about 18 hours after Eden stepped down for reasons of health, the dapper son of an American mother was given the job of restoring Britain's prestige and economic stability after the Suez debacle. His rise to political prominence came only after World War II.

Picked Over Butler

The jaunty Macmillan was picked over the other favorite contender for the job, R. A. (Rab) Butler, 53, lord privy seal and majority leader of the House of Commons. Right wing Conservatives had opposed Butler on grounds he was "soft" in dealing with Egypt over the Suez crisis.

Macmillan rode to Buckingham Palace at 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EST) to receive the mandate from the Queen. During the trip he showed his usual lack of formality—he sat up front with his chauffeur.

The audience lasted 20 minutes, and a few moments before 2:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. EST), the palace announced briefly:

"The Queen received the Right Honorable Harold Macmillan, M.P., in audience this afternoon and offered him the post of prime minister and first lord of the Treasury.

"Mr. Macmillan accepted Her Majesty's offer and kissed hands upon his appointment."

When reporters at Downing Street asked Macmillan if he would call a general election, he replied flaty:

"No. And when there is one we wil win it."

Thus, Macmillan apparently feels he can govern with the present setup in Parliament, where the Conservatives have a 58-seat majority and where he is a favorite of the right wing because of his support of Eden during the Suez invasion.

Queen Made Decision

The decision to name a prime minister belongs to the Queen alone. But usually she picks a man who can muster a majority of the House of Commons.

In this case, with the Conservatives holding a 58-seat edge in the House, she chose Macmillan because he seemed able to rally fellow party members behind his policies.

Macmillan's appointment was a victory for the right wing Conservatives, who rejected Butler be-

Eden's Leaving May Give Egypt Change of Mind

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —The resignation of British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden may change Egypt's mind about negotiating a settlement of the Suez crisis, informed sources said today.

The General Assembly met today to debate a new American-backed plan authorizing a sweeping investigation of Soviet intervention in Hungary, but interest veered sharply to Eden and the Middle East.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was expected to release later in the day a full report on the progress of clearing the Suez Canal under U. N. auspices, but it was not clear whether the report would deal with British-French efforts to resume negotiations with Egypt on an overall settlement of canal navigation.

Up to this point, Egypt has said it will refuse to sit down at the conference table with Britain and France. However, some U. N. delegates said Egypt may be willing to reverse its stand, in view of Eden's resignation.

Western delegates saw prospects of a vote today on the 24-nation resolution setting up a five-member committee to conduct an inquiry in Soviet action to crush the Hungarian revolt.

Boy Dies in Chair At Dentist's Office

BEAVER, Pa. (UP) — The Beaver County coroner's office said today the death of a six-year-old West Aliquippa boy in a dentist's chair was caused by "cardiac arrest."

Louis Stephans died Wednesday night while under anaesthesia in the office of Dr. O. C. King, of Aliquippa. Dr. King said he was unable to arouse the boy after extracting four teeth.

Heavy Snowstorm Sweeping Through Erie Area Again

By UNITED PRESS

A snowstorm, with high winds piling up road-blocking drifts, dumped up to eight inches of fresh snow during the night in Northwestern Pennsylvania. Some main highways and all secondary roads were closed in Erie County.

The hand of heavy snow was to pass across the northern part of the state today, depositing a five to six inches layer along the entire length of the northern strip.

The hazardous driving conditions caused at least one additional traffic death in the state.

Accumulations of eight inches of fresh snow were reported at Erie and Ridgway. Up to seven inches fell in areas around Emporium, Bradford, Coudersport, Warren and Lock Haven.

State Police said the wind was "terrific" in the Erie County area, causing serious drifting which hampered snow removal efforts. Route 5 West to Cleveland was closed, and Route 20 West, also leading to Cleveland, was expected to close due to heavy drifting.

Routes 5 and 20 East, leading to Buffalo, remained open this morning but "drifting badly," state police said.

Public and parochial schools in the city of Erie remained open, but most schools elsewhere in the county were closed. Dr. John M. Hickey, Erie superintendent of public schools, said it was left to the discretion of parents whether to send their children to school.

The Meadville area reported four to six inches of fresh snow, and the Punxsutawney area from

Numbers Racket Suspended Here

The numbers racket in Monessen suddenly suspended operations today.

None of the city's bookies would accept bets this morning. No explanation for the shutdown of the illegal racket was offered.

Reportedly, the numbers pools are operating as usual in other valley communities.

Two 'Unusual' Auto Accidents Here Yesterday

Monessen police were trying today to unravel two "unusual" auto accidents on city streets.

Freddie P. Leone, of 105 Pennsylvania boulevard, reported to police yesterday that his pick-up truck was damaged while parked in front of his house.

According to a police report, the truck was damaged when struck by a car driven by Harold Hough, of Belle Vernon.

It was later learned that Hough was driving a car, owned by Fred Pagliari, of Box 202, Frank, Pa., which was earlier reported stolen.

Hough told police he somehow got into the wrong car by mistake, leaving his auto in Belle Vernon.

Police also had a hit-run report.

Keith E. Bradley, 956 Donner avenue, reported yesterday that his car was damaged while parked near his house.

Bradley supplied police with the license number of the alleged hit-run car. Police said the license belongs to a Donald Reviello, of 217 Terrace street, Dunmore, Pa.

Painter Blown Off Ladder

A young Pittsburgh Steel Co. painter was blown off a ladder this morning while working at the coke plant.

Richard Nemec, 20, of North Charleroi, was admitted to the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital for observation but, according to reports, X-ray pictures were negative.

He suffered bruises when a gust of wind toppled a ladder on which Nemec was standing knocking him to the ground, a fall of about 12 feet.

He is reported in good condition.

Payroll Deductions for March of Dimes Drive

Employes at the Monessen plants of the Pittsburgh Steel Co. and American Chain and Cable Co. may make donations to the 1957 March of Dimes campaign through payroll deduction, chairman Eli Alberts announced today.

"Company and union officials have cooperated to make the payroll deduction plan possible," Alberts said.

Employes will be solicited this month. All contributions will be voluntary, Alberts said.

The current March of Dimes drive started the first of this month. Since then coin boxes have been placed in various business establishments and civic and fraternal organizations by the Monessen Police Department under the supervision of Chief Michael Kuvinka.

Contributions can be made in person or by mail to Fred Stockus, assistant manager of the Mellon Bank and campaign treasurer.

Alberts pointed out that "millions of children are protected against crippling polio today because of your generosity to the March of Dimes."

He asked for continued help, reminding that "the fight to live must go on in hospitals, clinics and homes all over the nation where paralyzed patients struggled to overcome handicaps."

Charleroi Man Arrested Here

A Charleroi man, charged with repeated parking meter violations, was free under $100 bond today following a second arrest by Monessen police.

Thomas Standard, 34, of 1001 Third street, Charleroi, was first arrested last November 24. At that time he agreed to pay meter fines and costs amounting to $46.

According to Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka, Standard has failed to pay the fines. He was rearrested yesterday.

Bond was set this morning at a hearing before Alderman Manuel Monios.

John M. Good Is Named to Board

John M. Good, clerk of courts in Washington County, was named yesterday to fill the unexpired term of the late Theodore J. Carlsen as a Carroll Township School Director.

Good, a resident of Carroll Township, will serve through December, 1961. He was appointed by the county court.

Former CSTC President, John A. Entz, Dies

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP) — Dr. John A. Entz, 77, president emeritus of Slippery Rock State Teachers College and former president of California State Teachers College, will be buried at Wildwood Cemetery here Saturday.

Entz, who suffered a heart attack last July and never regained his health, died Tuesday night at the Wilt Convalescent Home here. The burial will follow services at a local funeral establishment.

A native of Loyalsockville, near here, Entz was an educator in Pennsylvania for 43 years before retiring in 1946. He became president of California Normal School in 1910 and resigned in 1928 to study at New York University after California became a four-year, degree-granting college.

The following year Entz returned to Pennsylvania as dean of instruction at Slippery Rock. He subsequently was named president and honored with the title of president emeritus prior to his retirement. A graduate of Albright College, Entz took graduate studies there as well as at NYU. In addition, he held honorary degrees from Albright and Grove City College.

He is survived by his widow, the former Margaret Follmer.

Fayette Salary Board Criticized On Wage Actions

The Fayette County Salary Board was under fire today from two county officials following an announcement of wage adjustments.

Clerk of Courts Harry T. Matthews and Register of Wills John L. Rider reacted sharply to the new pay scale, which both claimed was inadequate.

Matthews threatened to organize a union for county employes and Rider said that he will ask heads of county offices to attempt to secure a "living salary" for county employes.

Both men plan to carry their fight to legislative leaders in Harrisburg to press for a new law placing the authority to set salaries of county employes with the elective heads of offices.

Urges Cooperation from Congress, Every Citizen To Build 'World Order'

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower called today for a new measure of American unity and effort to continue prosperity at home and meet the continuing threat of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" abroad.

In his annual State of the Union message, Mr. Eisenhower asked not only for the cooperation of Congress but "a personal effort of dedication," by every American to help establish "a secure world order." He said that in such a world the United States can continue to prosper and resources "now dissipated on the armaments of war" can be released by all nations to help raise the world standard of living.

Mr. Eisenhower delivered his 3500-word message in person before a joint session of the House and Senate.

On the domestic front, Mr. Eisenhower found America enjoying an "unprecedented peak" of prosperity. But he said there is a continuing threat of inflation which can materially damage the current economy.

He called on business to avoid "unnecessary price increases" at a time when demand in many areas "presses hard on short supplies."

He also said that wage increases and other labor benefits should be "reasonably related" to productivity. He said that pay boosts that outrun prices and productivity contribute to inflation.

Asks National Inquiry

To maintain stable economic growth, Mr. Eisenhower recommended that Congress undertake "a broad national inquiry" into the entire American financial system.

In the troubled international field, the President said the existence of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" — obviously Russia and her satellites—threatened the peace of the world and, consequently, the security of the United States.

He repeated his recommendation for an "open skies" agreement among nations for mutual inspection of armaments by "unarmed aerial sentinels." And he again recommended that the United Nations persist toward the goal of reduced armaments, pledging this country's continued efforts in this direction.

The Chief Executive delayed until his Jan. 16 budget message the bulk of his detailed legislative recommendations. Today, however, he did include these specific requests:

1. A school construction bill which should be given "high priority."

2. A four-point civil rights program which he recommended last year, but which did not pass Congress.

3. Prompt action on legislation to "regularize" the status of Hungarian refugees admitted to this country as parolees. He also said he shortly would send Congress a special message asking for changes in the immigration laws.

4. An appreciable increase in appropriations for the U. S. information agency to strengthen the voice of freedom against Communist propaganda.

5. Congressional authorization of full U.S. participation in the international atomic energy agency.

Mr. Eisenhower said that, through future messages from

Here Are Some Highlights of Ike's Message

WASHINGTON (UP)—Highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union Message to Congress today:

World Affairs

A "surging . . . tide of nationalism" is shaking the foundations of tyranny throughout the world. It heralds "a new epoch" in which traditional power patterns will be "transformed by the spirit of freedom." America as the historic champion of freedom has a great opportunity for leadership in this world-wide "season of stress."

U.S. Economy

"Our economy is strong, expanding and fundamentally sound." Inflation is now the "principal threat." To meet the ever-present "danger" of an upward spiral in living costs, government must hold down its spending and "live within its means" on a balanced budget. Business and labor "owe the nation" restraint in seeking price and wage increases which would "accentuate" inflationary trends. If they fail to exercise "self-discipline" the government might have to intervene.

Defense

Our defense force today "is the most powerful in our peacetime history." It "can punish heavily any enemy who undertakes to attack us." But we still face a "strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" which poses a "continuing threat" to world peace and security. We cannot meet this threat "alone and isolated." We must continue foreign aid to strengthen other free nations and must keep our mutual security alliances firm. It is "vital" that Congress approve his new Middle

Steel Prices To Be Raised This Summer

NEW YOR K(UP)—Steel prices will be raised by $5 to $6 a ton on or about July 1, the editor of Iron Age predicted today.

Steel customers will get "the price word" on July 1 when the nation's steel mills will turn out automatic wage increase under terms of a three-year contract negotiated last year, Tom Campbell said.

Writing in the January issue of The Exchange, official magazine of the New York Stock Exchange, Campbell said the industry faces no problem insofar as earnings are concerned.

"The certainty of a 90 per cent or higher operating rate for most of the year spells better earnings than last year, when the strike marred the record," he said.

He estimated that in 1957 the nation's steel mills will tur nout 120 million tons, as compared with 115 millions tons last year.

Legion for Bill To Legalize Games of Chance

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Legislation asking that games of chance be legalized for non-profit organizations will be endorsed by the state American Legion when its policy-making executive committee meets in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Jan. 26.

Joseph P. Gavenonis, Mildred, Pa., state commander, told a meeting of the Third District commanders Wednesday night that the veterans' group will support the bill introduced Tuesday by two Montgomery County legislators.

He said one reason for the Legion's support of the legislation was that service organizations have been caught between rising costs and limited incomes.

"Lawmakers should not attempt to ban basic human instincts out of existence, but should set up controls to prevent abuse. Legalized games of chance can be made useful if the proper controls are adopted," said Gavenonis.

Gavenonis said the Legion would put its full support behind the bill now before the lawmakers and "let the chips fall where they may."

The resolution supporting the "Bingo Bill" was introduced at the meeting by Paul N. Tranchitella, a Philadelphia attorney.

Truck Driver Killed at RR Grade Crossing

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—A truck driver from Columbia County was killed in a grade crossing crash, and 36 cars of a Baltimore and Ohio freight train were derailed in separate train accident near here today.

Mahlon Lee Kile, 19, of Orangeville RD 2, died when a tractor-trailer he was driving collided with a Pennsylvania Railroad freight at Everson, just north of here. His wife, Pearl, 18, was taken to Frick Memorial Hospital at Mt. Pleasant in critical condition with head, chest and internal injuries.

The truck, loaded with baby foods, was owned by Willis A. Dietrick, 30, of Benton, Pa.

The B & O freight was derailed at Indian Creek, east of Connellsville, with some of the cars toppling down a bank into the Youghiogheny River. The wreck blocked traffic on the railroad's main line and the railroad detoured other trains over Western Maryland Railroad tracks.

The freight, heading west from Cumberland, Md., to Pittsburgh, carried a cargo of limestone.

Mellon Bank Reports Record 1956 Earnings

Record earnings of $7.70 a share in 1956 were reported today by Mellon National Bank and Trust Company.

This was an increase of 96 cents a share over 1955's earnings of $6.74 a share. Dividend payments during the year amounted to $3.70.

At the year-end, the total resources of the bank passed the two billion dollar mark for the first time. Commenting on this increase, the bank reported:

"An unusual inflow of deposits on December 31 raised the total to a new year-end record of $1,736,243,126, almost 63 million dollars greater than a year ago. The daily average, however, is the significant indicator. In 1956 this average was $1,646 million, just $7 million higher than the 1955 average".

During the year, loans outstanding increased 23 per cent to a total of $930,451,974 — the highest total the bank has ever reported. Although most categories of customers participated in the increased demand for loans, a study made of the period from Dec. 31, 1954 to June 30, 1956 showed that slightly less than half of the total increase in loans during that period was attributable to large corporate and individual customers. The remainder resulted from loans to small business and from retail banking operations with individuals.

Among larger industries, public utility companies borrowed particularly heavily to finance the construction of generating equipment.

Meadville Man Admits 11 Thefts

MEADVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Robert A. Vatter, 24, Meadville, was in custody today after he admitted burglarizing 11 business establishments in Crawford County during a nine-day crime spree.

Police Chief E. C. Gibson said Vatter admitted the burglaries Wednesday. He said Vatter never got more than $100 from any burglary.

Vatter, a chair factory employe, told police he committed the burglaries between Dec. 21 and Dec. 30, Gibson said. The places robbed included gasoline stations, a dairy and a farm equipment store.

U. S. Steel Corp. Railroad Warned Strike Possible

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The United Steelworkers has warned the Union Railroad, a U.S. Steel Corp subsidiary, it would strike at midnight Jan. 16 if it sdemands on a new contract are not met.

John R. Sullivan, director of USW District 15, served the strike notice Wednesday in a letter to B. R Gould, vice president and general manoger of the Union Railroad

Sullivan said the railroad refused to grant the same benefits as those allowed in U. S. Steel mills and was attempting to treat its USW employes as "secodn-class citizens"

The railroad serves U S. Steel plants in Homestead, Rankin, Braddock, Duquesne, West Mifflin and Clairton. Although a walkout would directly involve 1,600 members of USW locals 1913 and 3263, picket lines would idle additional thousands and seriously curtail production

The USW has been negotiating since Oct 1 on insurance and wage issues, Sullivan said He said other contract matters have been discussed since Nov. 1 without agreement.

Violence Erupts in Montgomery

By UNITED PRESS

Violence erupted in the bus integration movement with a mass bombing that damaged four Negro churches and the homes of two ministers early today in Montgomery, Ala.

Police said members of two families escaped injury from the blasts that hit fronts of the dwellings while they slept. Other explosions damaged churches that had been used for integration rallies.

The targets of the predawn bombings included two Negro ministers who were attending a southwide conference of Negroes in Atlanta to map plans for spreading their bus integration movement to other cities.

They were the Revs. Ralph D. Abernathy, Baptist minister whose home and church were badly damaged, and the Rev. Hugh J. Fields, also a Baptist minister whose church was wrecked by another blast.

The bombings followed a sixth gun blast which hit a Montgomery bus late Wednesday in the sixth such shooting since the transit line was integrated by court order last month.

Fields' Bell Street Baptist Church was damaged throughout by a blast just before 6 a.m. EST while hordes of police were already investigating the earlier bombings in another Negro area.

The flareup of the first wholesale bombing in the region-wide segregation dispute was timed with a spread of the movement to Atlanta, where Negroes were staging their most ambitious plan to integrate buses.

A group of Atlanta members planned to defy local bus segregation laws by riding in front sections of trolleys for a second time later today. The test was being held during a two-day conference of Negro leaders who hope to spread their movement to other Southern cities.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia alerted the National Guard to put down any "riots, insurrection or breaches of the peace" that might be stirred up by "outside agitators" in Atlanta.

The Rev. William Borders, a Baptist minister, denied his "love, law and liberation" movement was connected with the conference called by leaders of earlier movements in Montgomery, Ala., Tallahassee, Fla., and Birmingham, Ala.

Both groups urged a policy of non-violence. The three sites of earlier integration tests all have been hit by various forms of violence including shootings, rock throwing, and bombing of Negroes' homes.

Spreads Integration Movement

The Atlanta campaign spread the bus integration movement into nearly every Southern metropolis, although actual attempts to ride in "white" sections had previously been made only in Montgomery, Tallahassee and Birmingham.

Negroes in New Orleans Wednesday were denied their formal request for bus integration. They said "the only recourse we have left is the federal court."

Other Negro groups have made preliminary moves to start riding buses on a mixed basis in Memphis, Tenn., and in several smaller Alabama cities.

Other cities in Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina and Oklahome have ended compulsory bus segregation without such drives.

Auto Industry's Shaky Start Has the Steel Producers Worried

NEW YORK (UP) — Steel producers are concerned about the way some auto companies are "dragging their feet on steel orders," Iron Age said today.

"Detroit's shaky 1957 start has the mills worried," the metal-working weekly said.

It said slow ordering from appliance manufacturers is another disappointment, however, Iron Age noted, other steel-consuming industries are more than taking up the slack. These industries include oil and gas, freight cars, construction, and shipbuilding, the authoritative weekly said.

Some mills are operating above capacity, it stated.

The steel picture in the auto industry "depends upon where you sit," Iron Age said. Detroit is "blowing hot and cold" with sales of low-priced models gaining momentum, but dealers of medium priced cars are running into price resistance, it said.

"If this keeps up," Iron Age added, "there may be some pencil-sharpening on medium-priced autos."

Despite this unexpected hitch in the auto industry's 1957 getaway, the publication said, mills are booked solid on most products for the first quarter.

Although increases in base steel prices have been "scattered and insignificant," increases in steel price extras are "cropping up almost daily" and more such increases are likely to be in the works, Iron Age said.

for continued weakness, it added.

Steel scrap prices continue "to move away" from the record high of the year-end, the weekly said, with prices in major consuming areas dropping as much as $3 a ton. The "near-term" outlook is

New Construction Hits New Record

WASHINGTON (UP)—New construction last year rose to a record $44,258,000,000 but declined slightly in physical volume from the 1955 peak, the government reported today.

The record dollar value was three per cent higher than in 1955 and represented the tenth straight year in which spending broke previous records. But the physical volume was two per cent lower than in 1955

The figures reflected a rise of about 5 per cent in construction costs.

'Penny' Uranium Stock Investors In Big Losses

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania Securities Commission today reported that investors in the so-called "penny" uranium stocks have lost 95 per cent of the money put into them.

In its annual report the commission said that in the last year $80,000,000 has been invested in uranium stock issues and losses have amounted to 95 cents on the dollar.

The agency said that between 1951 and 1956 the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission and various state commissions were unable to "stop the flood of worthless or near-worthless uranium stock issues."

"The uranium boom now is fading but the commission is witnessing an increase in the number of complaints concerning the activities of dealers located in Canada," the commission said.

The commission urged individuals who receive telephone and mail solicitations to purchase uranium stocks to report such communications to the agency immediately.

Raises Pigs to Help Erect Giant Cross

By SAMUEL HANCOCK

MARION, Ill. (UP) — Wayman Presley needs help to raise and sell 42,000 pigs.

Presley, 60-year-old mail carrier from Makanda, Ill., wants to erect the world's largest cross atop Bald Knob Mountain in the Illinois Ozarks.

He has been accepting donations since 1951. But so far, he has netted only $50,000 of the estimated $1 million cost.

"At this rate, it would take about 15 years to get enough money, and I would like to see it built sooner as a shrine where people can worship and honor God," Presley said.

So Presley hit on his pig-raising scheme.

He got the idea in April, 1955, when he appeared on a network television show with Mrs Myrta Clutts, a Cobden, Ill., widow. Mrs. Clutts pledged $100 from the sale of pigs toward Presley's fund. Her old sow had a litter of 21 pigs.

Presley later located and bought 19 of the 21 pigs, and last summer put his plan into operation.

He took each pig to a different farmer, who pledged to raise it as a donation. When the gilts grow up and have litters, the young will be distributed to other farmers. Sows will produce at a rate of two litters a year during the 3½-year program.

Presley said the proceeds from the sale of barrows will be used to pay the costs of the pig program.

Presley found the farmers cooperative.

"We have 107 sows in production right now," he said. "Thirty-eight of them are in the three small towns of Ava, Cutler and Campbell High (Ill.) alone."

Swiss Watch Makers Say Americans Distort

WASHINGTON (UP)—Importers of Swiss watches charged yesterday that American manufacturers have "grossly exaggerated and distorted" the effects of competition from abroad.

They said domestic companies are suffering less from foreign competition than from a "technological lag" in styling and designing time pieces that match Swiss watches in performance.

Samuel W. Anderson, president of the American Watch Association, which represents Benrus, Longines and other Swiss importers, urged the Office of Defense Mobilization to use "caution" in considering the domestic producers' request for a further curb on imports.

"The problems which domestic watch and clock companies have been parading before the ODM for the past two days," he said. "... result principally from their technological lag, their failure to keep abreast of new developments, and neglect to modernize their styling and merchandising."

He said a further cut in imports would not solve the "basic problem" and might "undermine confidence" in President Eisenhower's trade policies.

Anderson said U.S. companies now control more than 60 per cent of the domestic market in spring-wound clocks and watches and has virtually no foreign competition at all in automobile, electric and special purpose clocks and timing devices.

He said the "increased acceptance" of foreign watches and clocks by the American public is attributed less to lower prices than to "improved characteristics which are preferred by American consumers."

Foreign manufacturers, he said, "make a good product—maybe styled and designed better than ours, maybe sold better than ours."

Anderson disputed the domestic manufacturers' claim that they possess "unique defense production facilities" which must be preserved in event of a national emergency.

For one thing, he said, the armed services are making "rapid changes in the types of weapons desired" and are ordering fewer "time fuses and other devices closely akin to watchmaking."

For another, he said, Russia has demonstrated by establishing a new watch-clock industry that "any nation can quickly increase watch and clock production if it has access to properly trained scientists, engineers and technicians who can build the machines for automatic production."

Dean Acheson Is Opposed to 'Ike Doctrine'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic former Secretary of State Dean Acheson opposed President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine today as "far too hazardous a course even to be hinted at."

Acheson told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that Mr. Eisenhower's request for standby authority to use U.S. military force against any Communist aggression in the Middle East "sounds perilously like another approach into the brink."

Acheson, who was former President Truman's secretary of state, said Mr. Eisenhower's request was "not only unnecessary but undesirable" and the authority sought was "shadowy and vague."

He said his analysis of the President's request and the explanation given by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles convinced him the effect would be to grant the President power to use atomic warfare if he felt it was necessary.

"This is reckless talk," Acheson said. "Vague phrases which suggest that we might respond to any but the most vital danger by nuclear retaliation carry a vicious risk, whether believed or not believed, and may cause a fatal miscalculation."

'Can Be no Bluff'

"There can be no bluff here."

Acheson recommended that Congress refuse Mr. Eisenhower's request and approve instead a policy declaration supporting the President in his opposition to Soviet intervention.

Acheson testified scarcely two hours before Mr. Eisenhower went before a joint session of Congress to deliver his State of the Union message.

Former President Truman offered earlier to submit in writing his views on the resolution to the committee.

The committee's Democratic members rejected a proposed substitute for the Eisenhower Doctrine advanced by a "very prominent" Democrat.

They did so after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denounced the substitute.

President Eisenhower was expected to make a new plea for speedy approval of his original plan in delivering his State of the Union Message to a joint session of Congress today.

Democrats on the foreign relations committee who were questioned about the substitute showed little sentiment for it. Several flatly rejected it.

Aggression Only

The substitute would state only that the United States regards the independence of Middle East nations as vital and would fight, if necessary, to protect them.

Mr. Eisenhower's proposal specified that the United States would go to the Middle East's defense only in event of Communist aggression. It also would give the President authority to commit American troops without advance congressional approval and would authorize a $400 million program of economic and military aid to strengthen Middle East nations.

The substitute was referred to the committee without endorsement by Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex), who said it was submitted to him by a "very prominent" Democrat formerly in the government. He would not identify the Democrat but said he was not former President Truman or former Secretary of State Dean Acheson cause of his opposition to the Suez invasion.

The right wingers considered Macmillan a compromise candidate who could muster moderate support as well.

Earlier, the Queen had summoned wartime Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill to help her decide on a successor to Eden. Churchill was one of many statesmen summoned for consultation and rumors promptly spread that the old veteran might be asked to form a caretaker government until the badly shaken Conservative Party could nominate a strong new leader.

"Rab" Butler has long been considered Eden's heir apparent, but he was reported to have opposed the government policy of intervention in the Suez, and there was powerful opposition to his selection from right-wing members of the party.

Eden's resignation stunned Britain and the world. It brought rejoicing in Cairo where President Gamal Abdel Nasser was credited with being the first Egyptian to bring about the downfall of a British prime minister.

It brought a cautious comment from France that Premier Guy Mollet would now "go it alone" with no thought of resignation. It brought a new propaganda blast from Moscow — that the Eisenhower Doctrine caused Eden's downfall.

It brought private expressions of satisfaction in Washington where officials welcomed the resignation as a step toward restoring U.S.-British relations to the pre-Suez level. There were words of solicitude from the White House and State Department.

Ike Omits "Regret"

But President Eisenhower did not express the usual "regret" over the resignation — an omission sure to be noted by the British public. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expressed "deep regret" that Eden's health made the resignation necessary.

One of the first reactions in Britain was to blame the United States directly or indirectly. Newspapers began asking if the retirement was "due in any degree to the pressure and hostility of the U.S. government." The secretary to a government minister blamed "that man Dulles."

Leaders of the British Labor Party demanded new general elections, but the Conservative Party has a commanding lead in Commons and elections now seemed a remote possibility. Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell, now in Cambridge, Mass., forecast a return to socialist government.

Eden, 59, had two choices now—to accept a peerage and move to the House of Lords, or to follow Churchill's lead and remain in the House of Commons as a private member—a "back bencher." But his health may force his retirement from public life.

The choice on April 5, 1955 was simple — Churchill recommended Eden and the party was united behind Sir Anthony. There was no such unity today; differences over the Suez policy had wrecked it.

Eden, in his last months of office, had been under heavy attack from all sides, but today found Britons firmly in sympathy with him. Eden was never known as a quitter, and Britons accepted the personal tragedy of failing health as the ruling element in his decision.

But neither did anyone hide Britain's greater tragedy: The wreckage, political and economic, left behind by the Eden government's intervention in Egypt.

him or department heads, the administration will submit special recommendations for legislation involving a broad range of subjects. These will include federal financial affairs, defense, the administration of justice, agriculture, "urgently needed" increases in postal rates, domestic and foreign commerce, natural resources, labor, health, atomic energy, public works and labor-management relations.

Mr. Eisenhower's State of the Union message was a new-style, streamlined document — much shorter and more generalized than previous State of the Union messages.

It was largely an appraisal of the domestic and world situations, with less emphasis on legislative recommendations.

Advance copies of the President's text originally were scheduled for distribution at 8 a.m. EST. But when he arrived at his office he began making revisions which delayed distribution of the copies until 10:15 a.m.

DIRKSEN TO SUCCEED KNOWLAND? — Decision of Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland (right) not to seek re-election in 1958 places Illinois Senator Everett Dirksen (left), another veteran of the "Taft wing" of the party, in a strong position to succeed Knowland in the post. Senator Styles Bridges, (center) chairman of the Senate minority policy committee, confers with Dirksen and Knowland before the policy group met in executive session.

Democrats Expect Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Southern Democratic leadership of the Senate is convinced that the Senate will pass a civil rights program this year.

It also is reported to be convinced the Senate probably will curb the power of the filibuster that Southerners have used so effectively to kill civil rights legislation in the past.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson himself joined in sponsoring a new attempt Wednesday to curb the filibuster rule.

A group of top Democrats expect passage of a moderate civil rights program will come first.

They expect the civil rights bloc of Northern senators to do it after mustering the 64 votes needed to shut off debate. Afterward, they expect a major and probably successful effort to curb the filibuster.

Other congressional news:

Doctrine: The House Foreign Affairs Committee called former Secretary of State Dean Acheson to testify on the Eisenhower Doctrine. Democratic members of the committee in effect have already buried a proposed mild substitute for the doctrine advanced by a "very prominent member" of their own party. They did so after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denounced it Wednesday.

Eastland: Sen. James O. Eastland was reappointed chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which passes on civil rights legislation. The Senate confirmed the appointment of Eastland, an ardent advocate of segregation, over the protest of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill).

More Workers In Hungary Protest Rule

VIENNA (UP) — Thousands of Hungarian workers are threatening to flee to the West in protest against the return of Communist dictatorship, reports reaching Vienna said today.

Reports from Hungary said workers at factories in scattered regions of the country staged protest marches and demonstrations in open defiance of martial law.

The new blue-coated police force of Premier Janos Kadar turned out in force on several occasions but there were no reports of violence.

Workers carried placards bearing such slogans as: "We will flee to the West" and "Mass dismissals must end," the reports said.

The Soviet-imposed puppet premier ordered some 200,000 workers laid off from the nationalized factories idled by the fuel and power shortages.

The revived terror campaign coincided with a tightening of the escape routes from Hungary to Austria. More than 150,000 Hungarians fled across the frontier since Russia unleashed its armored forces to crush the freedom-from-Moscow uprising two months ago.

The United States stands ready to negotiate for a "reliable" international agreement to control "outer space missile and satellite development" as well as reduce conventional arms and "reverse the trend toward ever more devastating nuclear weapons."

Farmers

"The long slide in farm income has been halted and ... further improvement is in prospect." Administration farm programs—the soil bank, flexible price supports and surplus disposal projects—"are working." He will recommend some additional farm legislation in his budget message next week, but he didn't say what.

Schools

An emergency federal program for school construction "should be enacted without delay." It should be passed "on its own merits," without getting it mixed up with the "complex problems of integration."

Civil Rights

"We are moving closer to the goal of fair and equal treatment of citizens without regard to race or color. But unhappily much remains to be done." He urged Congress to enact at this session the administration's four-point civil rights bill.

Refugees

He asked Congress to pass legislation "promptly" to authorize permanent admission to this country of the thousands of Hungarian refugees who are being brought here under emergency "parole" provisions of the immigration laws. He will recommend other changes in immigration laws later to meet "our world responsibilities."

transmission and distribution lines and other facilities.

This borrowing occurred because the rates at which new issues of long term debt and equity securities could be sold were not attractive during the latter part of the year, and the sale of such securities, which normally would have provided for the repayment of bank loans, in many cases was delayed.

Mellon Bank also reported substantial increases in loans to construction companies, manufacturers of building materials and equipment, and companies producing industrial machinery, electrical equipment and plant supplies. These loans reflected the large amount of industrial plant construction that took place in 1956.

During the year, the bank increased its undivided profits by more than seven million dollars after payment of dividends and transfers to loan reserves. It continues to rank fifth in the nation in total capital funds and second among the leading banks in the ratio of capital funds to deposits.

one to three inches. Total accumulation at Punxsutawney was four inches.

Butler reported rain during the night changed to sleet and snow this morning. State police there said the area was expected to be hit by a six-inch fall today.

There was little snow in Southwestern Pennsylvania, where roads were reported mostly wet and slushy.

Similar situations existed in Central Pennsylvania and most of the eastern part of the state.

Aubrey E. Clapper, 53, Hyndman, Pa., a barber, was killed Wednesday afternoon when his automobile skidded on slushy Route 96 near Hyndman and upset. His father, Reuben, was admitted to Cumberland (Md.) Memorial Hospital in fair condition.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted that rain and snow in Southeastern Pennsylvania would end about noon. Snow flurries were expected to continue in the mountain sections today and tonight.

A cold wave warning was issued for Western Pennsylvania with a forecast of temperatures ranging from 5 to 15 degrees. Elsewhere in the state temperatures were expected to be mostly in the teens.

Fair weather was expected throughout the state on Friday with high temperatures ranging from the middle teens in the northwest to the upper 20's in the southeastern counties.

Airline Plans Daily Flights

HARRISBURG (UP)—Allegheny Airlines will begin six daily flights between Washington, D. C. and Harrisburg Feb. 1.

James E. Hunter, the firm's Harrisburg station manager, said the service will bring to 19 the number of flights out of here daily. The reservation office at Harrisburg State Airport will move to 215 Chestnut St.

The new schedule provides direct service between the nation's capital, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Scranton, Bradford, Erie, Altoona, Pittsburgh and Jamestown, N.Y. In addition there will be a flight from Harrisburg to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, N.J. in the afternoon and one-stop morning service to Buffalo, N.Y., previously a connecting service.

Two USW Officials Suspended for Duration

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Two United Steelworkers staff employes nominated to oppose district directors at Cleveland and McKeesport have been suspended from the union's payroll.

USW president David J. McDonald notified Stephen J. Gall, McKeesport, an employe in the contract department, and staff representative Paul Schremp, Cleveland, they were being suspended for the duration of the campaign "in accord with former international policy."

Gall, who obtained five local nominations to place him on the Feb. 12 election ballot, is one of three candidates opposing John R Sullivan, director of District 15 in the McKeesport-Homestead area.

A union employe for 13 years, Gall said he had been asked by a McDonald assistant on Dec. 29 and Jan. 2 to withdraw in favor of Sullivan. He said he refused.

The USW has a policy that any paid staff member who runs against an incumbent officer is suspended automatically until after the election.

Schremp is running against Berlin W. Ohler, Dist. 28 director. Sullivan and Ohler are the only USW directors with opposition in the election.

Sullivan won the District 15 directorship after a contested election in which he was opposed by Paul Hilbert. The post pays $16,000 annually.

Gall said he had been advised by McDonald prior to the start of nominations last November that he might face suspension.

Gall said he had discussed his suspension with an international officer and had been assured all his job rights would be held intact until after the campaign. Gall said the officer told him such a suspension was a matter of policy.

Don C. Rarick, a grievance committeeman of Local 2227, heads the Dues Protest Committee which is fighting a $2 per month dues increase. Rarick is the committee's choice to oppose McDonald for the presidency of the USW.

Egyptian Papers Hail Resignation

CAIRO (UP) — Egyptian newspapers jubilantly hailed today the resignation of British Prime Minister Anthony Eden as a victory for Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Egypt.

The theme of editorial reaction was that Eden who invaded Egypt to topple Nasser had only toppled himself.

Eden's resignation was the main topic of editorials in all morning newspapers. All stressed Nasser today is stronger than ever while Eden has ended his political career.

Westinghouse to Reorganize Plant

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Westinghouse Electric Co. today announced a reorganization of its basic operating setup at its East Pittsburgh plant.

Previously comprised of four operating divisions, the East Pittsburgh plant has been designated at the East Pittsburgh Division of Westinghouse Electric Corp. with 10 basic product departments.

L. B. McCully, vice president and general manager at the plant, said conversion of the separate divisions into one large division organized in separate departments will simplify the plant's operations.

Leader Approves 'Shortway'

Would Be In Federal Program

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader today recommended to the federal government that the Sharon-Stroudsburg "Keystone Shortway" be constructed as part of the interstate highways system.

The recommendation followed a report submitted to the Highways Department by Michael Baker Jr. Inc., Rochester, Pa., the firm retained as consultant engineers to develop a study comparing the proposed shortway with U. S. Route 6 which traverses extreme northern Pennsylvania.

The Baker report said it favored the shortway over U.S. Route 6 as an interstate highway because: It would cost approximately $12,000,815 less; population along the shortway is about 500,000 higher, and the distance across Pennsylvania from Sharon to Stroudsburg would be cut by 34 miles. Route 6 is 325 miles. The firm also said the estimated saving of $4.16 for the average vehicle would mean savings of better than $9,000,000 for motorists over a single year.

The tentative route of the shortway would carry it close to the communities of Sharon, Mercer, Brookville, Clearfield, Williamsport, Berwick, Hazleton and Stroudsburg.

Leader said at a news conference that in the last two weeks the state has received a petition signed by "several hundred" public officials, businessmen and industries requesting that Route 6 be improved as a primary route by the Highways Department rather than go into the interstate system.

U. S. to Tighten Restrictions on Many Refugees

CAMP KILMER, NJ. (UP)— The government plans to tighten security and other restrictions on Hungarian refugees coming to the United States.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa), chairman of the House investigation subcommittee, announced the security crackdown Wednesday and said "many more people" are to be returned in the future.

Walter came to this refugee reception center after it was announced that eight Hungarians were returned to Austria for giving false— information. Another Hungarian returned at his own request.

He said many of the first refugees to flee Hungary were "hard-boiled Communists" trying to escape the ire of revolutionists, but that he was not sure how many Communists reached the United States.

However, of those who have filtered through, Walter said he was "quite certain our authorities will round them up and deport them." Many of those to be turned back will be deported for violation of parole, Walter said

The Pennsylvania Democrat, co-author of the McCarran-Walter immigration law, said he thought some Hungarian Communists had received permanent American visas while true rebels against Communism were forced to enter the country on parole.

TO SPEAK HERE — Col. J. J. Sustar, noted news analyst, will speak to the Monessen B'nai B'rith at an open meeting at Kneseth Israel Center on Watkins avenue Tuesday at 9 p. m. The meeting is open to members, their wives and friends. Col. Sustar has just returned from a two-week trip that included stops in Egypt, Israel, Lebanon and Cyprus. He will speak on the Mid-East situation.

P&LE Employes Incentive Plan Okayed by ICC

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad said today the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved incentive stock and bonus plans for the road's employes.

John W. Barriger, company president, said any of the road's 5,600 employes may start purchasing company stock next Tuesday, Jan. 15.

An employe may buy one share for each $200 of annual earnings, with a minimum limit of three shares for each $200 of annual earnings, with a minimum limit of three shares and a maximum of 100.

The shares will be paid for through payroll deductions over a three-year period. The purchase price will be the closing market price on the day preceding receipt of the employe's purchase application.

A maximum of 10,000 shares would be offered under the plan.

Eden Problem, House Hunting

LONDON (UP)—One of the first tasks facing Sir Anthony and Lady Eden will be that of house hunting.

When Eden resigned as prime minister he gave up his official residence at No. 10 Downing Street and the sprawling country estate of Chequers in the Chiltern Hills.

That left him with but one home of his own, a quaint little cottage with thatched roof and rose pink walls in Wiltshire which Lady Eden bought some years back. It is not suitable for entertaining or commuting to London.

Eden also gave up a $28,000 income when he resigned. He is not wealthy, but this was believed a minor problem since he can take his pick of a handful of business directorships if he wants them.

State Roads Listed For Federal System

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department announced today it has designated 1,262 miles of roads in Pennsylvania for inclusion in the proposed federal interstate highway system, including the main Pennsylvania Turnpike from the Ohio to New Jersey borders.

The mileage submitted for approval to federal authorities includes the 358-mile East-West section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the proposed 290mile Keystone Shortway.

Other roads recommended for the interstate system include:

U.S. 11, 40 miles, north of Scranton to the New York State line; U S 611, 10 miles, northeast of Stroudsburg to the New Jersey line; U.S. 22, 80 miles, Indiantown Gap to Chapmans, west of Allentown; Traffic Route 126, 24 miles, from Maryland State line to two miles south of turnpike near Breezewood; U.S 111 (York-Harrisburg Expressway), 46 miles, to Maryland State line; Traffic Route 43, 25 miles, Schuylkill Expressway from the turnpike to the Walt Whitman Bridge in Philadelphia, and one mile of Vine St. in Philadelphia to 15th St.; Traffic Route 31, 36 miles, from the turnpike at New Stanton west to near Washington, Pa.

U.S. 22-30, 14 miles, from the turnpike to Monroeville to Pittsburgh; and 10 miles from Pittsburgh to Carnegie; U.S. 20 (Erie Thruway), 43 miles, and approach to the city of Erie, U.S. 19, four miles; U.S. 13 (Delaware Expressway), 30 miles, Philadelphia by way of Bucks County to the turnpike; U.S. 11, 48 miles from Carlisle to the Maryland line; U.S. 611, 50 miles from south of Scranton to northwest of Stroudsburg; U.S. 22, 21 miles from Harrisburg to Indiantown Gap; U.S. 40, 16 miles from Washington, Pa., to West Virginia; U.S. 19, 40 miles from Washington, Pa. to Warrendale.

Traffic Route 126, two miles in the vicinity of the turnpike at Breezewood; U.S. 13, 12 miles from the Delaware State line through Chester to the Walt Whitman Bridge in Philadelphia, and two miles of Vine St. from 15th St. to the Benjamin Franklin Bridge; Traffic Route 31, two miles east of Washington, Pa.; U S. Big Problem! Who Is The 33rd President?

WASHINGTON (UP) — No one disputes that George Washington was the first president of the United States.

But whether Dwight D. Eisenhower is the 33rd or 34th, ah there is a poser.

The 1957 Inaugural Committee announced Wednesday night it will designate Mr. Eisenhower as the nation's 34th president.

Harry S. Truman, and many others, would disagree.

Mr. Truman always regarded himself as the 32nd president. That would make Mr. Eisenhower the 33rd.

This year's inaugural planners in choosing between 33 and 34 decided to align themselves with the school known as "the Grover Cleveland twice-counters."

This school is composed of scholars, historians, politicians, journalists and other deep thinkers who insist that Cleveland was both the 22nd and the 24th president.

Cleveland, an abundant man, served split terms — 1885 to 1889 and 1893 to 1897 — with Benjamin Harrison sandwiched in between.

All hands agree that Mr. Eisenhower is only the 33rd man to hold the office of president. But by counting Cleveland twice, they make a case for listing Mr. Eisenhower as the 34th president.

The Inaugural Committee said it arrived at this conclusion after consulting such authorities as the Library of Congress and the chief of protocol of the State Department.

Both sources reasoned that if Harrison was the 23rd president (which he was), and if Cleveland followed Harrison (which he did), then Cleveland must have been number 24, despite the fact that he already was number 22.

Any questions?

Mother of 11 Gives Birth to Triplet Girls

ERIE, Pa. (UP)— A 38-year-old mother of 14 children, including brand new triplet girls, said today "we'll make out the best we can" on her husband's $65-a-week salary.

Mrs. Ida Burnett, wife of a state Highways Department employe, and her daughters were reported "in wonderful condition" at St. Vincent's Hospital following the triple birth Wednesday.

"It's wonderful that they are girls," Mrs Burnett said. "We have seven boys and four girls at home and the triplets now even the score."

The babies, as yet unnamed, were born within five minutes of each other, the first coming at 4:54 p.m. Nurses named them Baby "A," "B" and "C."

Baby "A" weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces, Baby "B" 4 pounds 9¼ ounces, and Baby "C" 5 pounds, 2½ ounces.

The triplets were the first multiple birth for the couple. The other children ranged in age from 2½ years to 20.

The Burnetts live at Albion, Pa., about 23 miles southwest of here. They moved to Albion from Griffin, Ga., in 1952 and live in a seven-room house.

Convicted, but Faces Additional Robbery Charges

PITTSBURGH (UP)— George Riston, 40, Pittsburgh, convicted Wednesday of participating in a loan office holdup, will go on trial again today before another jury on a similar robbery charge.

A jury of 10 women and two men deliberated less than two hours Wednesday before finding Riston guilty of participating in a $3,331 holdup of the Economy Federal Savings and Loan Assn. last May 22.

Sentence was delayed pending today's trial.

Five persons testified at Riston's first trial that he was in West Virginia at the time of the holdup. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Isaac Riston, Pittsburgh, said she accompanied him to Shinnston, W. Va., on May 20, 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Yost, Shinnston, Mrs. Riston's brother and sister-in-law; Mrs. Vivian Cunningham, a neighbor of the Yosts, and William J. Lindsey, 64, Lumberfort, W. Va., also testified Riston was in West Virginia the week of the holdup.

Leader to Give Budget Message Week of Feb. 4

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader said today he probably will deliver his budget message to a joint session of the General Assembly the week of Feb. 4.

Leader said that any recommendations he has to make on taxes will be contained in the message. However, he declined to say whether he will support any specific tax program but indicated the message will "incorporate" his thinking on the report made recently by a special bipartisan Tax Study Committee.

The group recommended retention of the 3 per cent sales tax with elimination of some of the current exemptions, including clothing.

The governor said his administration will sponsor legislation to bar public officials, including legislators, from using their influence in state business. He said the legislation will be introduced "fairly early" in the session.

He singled out "insurance, state contracts, anyone doing business with the Commonwealth," as the areas to be covered in the "influence peddling" legislation.

Blames Toothache For Conviction

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Richard Nathan Longfellow, 42, blamed a bad toothache for his conviction on a drunk driving charge.

Longfellow told traffic court he washed his mouth out four times with swigs of whisky to ease the pain.

"I guess I did accidentally swallow some," he said.

The judge fined him $60.

Methodists Meet to Plan Higher Education

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Methodist Church's four-year emphasis on Christian Higher Education was launched here today at the start of a three-day joint meeting.

About 250 persons, including presidents of the 118 Methodist educational institutions in the country, members of the church's commission on Christian higher education and staff members of the Methodist board of education, are attending the sessions.

The opening day program was devoted to the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist Church Dr. Harold C. Case, Boston, president of the association and head of Boston University, will deliver the main address at a banquet tonight.

Other first day speakers included Dr. Clarence E. Ficken, dean of Ohio Wesleyan University; Dr. Ernest C. Colwell, vice president of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Kenneth Benne, director of the Boston U. Human Relations Center, and Dr. Stanley H. Martin, Nashville, Tenn., director of the Methodist board of education department of student loans and scholarships.

The Friday and Saturday programs will be devoted to the commission on Christian Higher Education, a 137-member body created by the 1956 Methodist General Conference to direct the church-wide emphasis on Christian higher education during the 1956-60 quadriennium.

Five Methodist bishops will be among the speakers on the final two days.

Committee appointments were announced for 1957 at last night's meeting of Thomas McKee Post 28 American Legion in the Legion Home. Commander Peter T. Stieska made the assignments.

Serving on the building committee will be Jack Beck, chairman, Dr. G. L. Trilli, Dr. Lawrence Lee, William Huston, Clarence Murphy, George Chesmar, Harry McDermott and Angelo Giannini; child welfare, Dr. Trilli, Beck, John Dudas, Michael Skirpan, Jr. and Andy Valko and Chesmar; essay committee, Beck, Denver Rhome; finance, Murphy, Huston, Beck, Skirpan; Americanization, John Dudas, Jack Snyder, Dr. Trilli; funeral committee, Giannini, Snyder, Valko, Stanley Sezewchik; publicity, Snyder, Dr. Lee and Giannini; auditing, Pishko, Snyder, Trilli and Skirpan.

Adjutant Jack Snyder reported a membership of 540 to date.

Reports were heard from William Carlson, chairman of the Christmas stag party, George Chesmar, chairman of the kiddie treat and Jack Snyder, chairman of the Christmas package distribution in hospitals.

Frank Reese was reported as being a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital and William Feld, ill at home.

Donations were voted to the March of Dimes and the Monessen Hungarian Relief Fund. It was also voted to supply 20 additional readers for the Americanization class at Monessen High School at the request of the instructor. The Post previously furnished 50 of these books and has been supplying the readers since the course began.

Pishko announced that the Legion's Civic Betterment Award application has been turned in to the Chamber of Commerce office and that he will represent Post 28 as a judge and will act as a teller in the Men's Division. Winners will be announced at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, Jan. 23.

The local Post will be represented at the Westmoreland County Council meeting in Greensburg, Jan. 23 at 7:30 p. m.

Youth Serving Jail Sentence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP) — Tommy Gaither, 17, who said he burned down his junior high school because he had a headache, began serving a five-year prison sentence today.

The youth, who admitted setting a fire that destroyed the Trafford Junior High School, was sentenced to two years in prison for arson. The judge revoked his probation on a previous three-year sentence for burglaring the same school, thus sending him to prison for five years.

At the time of his arrest Gaither told officers he set fire to the school "because I had a headache and didn't feel good that day."

Diabetes Tests Are Available

CHICAGO (UP)—A "do-it-yourself" test for diabetes, packaged for sale in vending machines and drug stores, has been announced by a medical research firm.

The test is not designed for known diabetics but for "the general public," said Paul Becker, president of the Clinical Development Laboratories of Springfield, Ill., the firm which developed the test.

Becker estimated there are a million unknown diabetics in the United States and medical authorities estimated an additional 3 million persons will contract the disease during their lifetime.

The test is designed to disclose the presence of sugar in the urine. It consists of a piece of tape treated like litmus paper which is hermetically sealed and contains live enzymes.

Doctors advised taking the test in the morning before eating since varying body conditions after meals might affect the tape.

"If the tape turns blue on two successive tests, see your doctor," said Becker.

The tests will be labeled "Sugar-Chek" and will sell for 25 cents.

Rockwell Charges State Tax Structure Stifling Industry

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UP) — Willard F. Rockwell Jr., co-chairman of Gov. George M. Leader's Tax Advisory Committee, charged Wednesday night the state's economic development is being stifled by the "excessive" taxation of industry.

The Pittsburgh industrialist said new evidence recently was presented to the tax committee showing the Commonwealth's industrial growth is being stunted. He said it proves that lower local taxes on state industry do not offset the "high state tax differential between this and neighboring states."

Rockwell, in a speech at the 5th annual Business Forum at Bucknell University, said nine neighboring states, including West Virginia and Ohio, have lower industrial taxes than Pennsylvania.

Rockwell, who is president of the state Chamber of Commerce, said the total tax differential is often so great it may dwarf all other considerations affecting a manufacturer's decision on where to locate or expand.

As an example, he cited a mythical $10 million corporation carrying a relatively low level of inventory and a high level of investment in fixed assets. He said such a firm would have to pay $359,388 in state and local taxes each year if located in Leetsdale, Pa.—14 times as much as the $25,048 total which would be exacted in Newark Del., and more than seven times as much as it would face in Warren Twp., Ohio.

"It is a known fact," Rockwell said, "that every responsible management of every medium sized company ... will turn itself inside out to save $20,000 or $30,000. So obviously an annual tax differential of several hundred thousand dollars is of overwhelming importance."

The industrialist said the committee's latest tax study shows the state's "high taxes on industry keep all Pennsylvania communities near the top of the list for total taxes."

"In neighboring states," he said, "a manufacturer can make out better taxwise than in the cheapest tax community in Pennsylvania..."

Rockwell paid tribute to the state's daily and weekly newspapers for the "magnificent job the press in our state has been doing in reducing to simple, understandable terms the essence of Pennsylvania's tax problems."

Would Halt Tax On Non-residents

HARRISBURG (UP)—A Bucks County Democrat has proposed legislation to prevent Philadelphia from levying a city wage tax on non-resident workers.

The bill introduced Thursday by Rep. A. Patrick Brennan would let the city continue to tax workers who live in the city but commuters could not be taxed.

The so-called "taxation without representation" has been a persistent issue with workers employed in Philadelphia but residing elsewhere. Neighboring New Jersey has been particularly critical of Philadelphia authorities reaching across the Delaware River to tap residents for nonpayment of the wage tax.

Watch Lost 10 Years Is Returned

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—William H. Schwinger left his watch on a train. He prized it highly, but extensive search and advertising didn't bring it back.

It came Tuesday by mail—10 years later.

"I couldn't even tell where the package was mailed from," Schwinger said. "But I want to thank the person who returned my watch. Getting it back made yesterday one of the happiest days of my life."

Teachers and Unions

A LETTER from Local 1391, United Steelworkers of America, to the Monessen School Board has criticized the board, among other things, for allegedly discouraging the unionization of teachers and for neglecting to follow trade union practices in the operation of the public schools. The charge is also made, by inference, that because a teacher does not belong to a union, he or she can't teach "without bias".

It is up to the school directors to make whatever response to these criticisms they think is appropriate. And we doubt if they need any help from us.

From the standpoint of principle, however, we wonder just how valid is the assumption that because certain practices, such as seniority, have been applied in steel mills, they must perforce be incorporated in the public school system.

We are not ourselves entirely convinced that, even in a factory, it is sound to make no distinction between the indifferent worker and the superior worker except on the basis of longevity. This seems to us to put a premium on mediocrity, and we do not see how it can be squared with the American principle that a man's progress should be limited only by his individual ability and diligence.

But even if we accept the levelling principle in the factory, is it right to apply it to so subjective and individualistic a profession as teaching? Teaching is one place where we must do everything possible to encourage exceptional performance and weed out mediocre performance.

This is why most teachers are preferring their professional organizations to trade unions. And we can understand how it is possible for a school director to be a perfectly good union man in his own vocation and still be reluctant to apply all the practices of unionism to the business of educating children.

The Filibuster Fight

THE WELL-PUBLICIZED attempt by a group of U. S. Senators, consisting of about equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, to put a bridle on the filibuster fell short of its goal, as had been expected. The key vote was 55 to 38 against any change of the Senate rule which allows unlimited debate.

Nevertheless, there were some encouraging developments which seem to suggest that the filibuster, which has been used so many times to make a mockery of the democratic process, may not be with us too much longer.

For one thing, 18 more senators voted against the filibuster this time than did so in a similar test in 1953. That suggests to us that public opinion is rapidly eroding the power of the arch-conservatives who so far have been able to preserve the principle of unlimited debate.

For another, in the course of last week's debate, Vice President Nixon delivered an opinion from the chair which, while not binding at all, struck at the heart of the argument which has prevented any change in the Senate rules. Mr. Nixon took the view that the Senate is not a "continuing body" in the sense that one Senate cannot change the rules adopted by a previous Senate. In a future test the Nixon opinion may prove most helpful.

The filibuster, of course, is used most often by Southern Democrats to prevent the enactment of civil rights legislation. Unable to defeat such legislation by their votes after reasonable debate, they just talk it to death.

But regardless of how or for what purpose the filibuster is used, it is an undemocratic gadget which prevents the will of the majority from even being expressed, much less translated into action. It ought to be removed.

Eden Goes Down

SIR ANTHONY Eden's grave error of attempting to solve the Suez Canal problem by force has proved more than even his vast prestige could overcome, and he has had to resign as Prime Minister of Great Britain.

We do not see how, under the British political system, Sir Anthony lasted even as long as he did after the attack on Egypt. For it has been obvious that public opinion in Britain, like that in the United States, thought this attack was grievously wrong. And even those Britons who supported Eden's action have disapproved of his failing to carry it through to a conclusion.

So there was no future for Sir Anthony. A Prime Minister simply cannot function without the confidence of his party and of the British public.

It is a pity, nevertheless, that this should happen to so brilliant a statesman. Sir Anthony Eden for a generation has been in the first rank of the leaders of the free world. And his achievements greatly outweigh his mistakes. We would like to see him mainly remembered by the former.

Merry-Go-Round—

'New' Nixon Irks GOP Old Guard

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A lot of backstage huddles plus careful planning preceded Vice President Nixon's ruling that part of Senate Rule 22 regarding filibusters is unconstitutional.

Mr. Pearson

Nevertheless, some Old Guard Senators almost dropped dead with surprise.

Richard Nixon has long been the darling of the Taft conservative wing of the Grand Old Party. It was this group which stuck by him last summer against Harold Stassen, demanded that he be No 2 on the ticket. So its surprise was understandable.

When the last attempt to change filibustering came up, it was Bob Taft who killed any change. Taft stuck by the longstanding alliance between Northern Republicans and Southern Democrats whereby the Republicans stood with Republicans on anti-labor issues.

The new Nixon, however, once a Taft disciple, did just the opposite.

The new Nixon not only junked the old GOP-Southern alliance, but did so despite an advance call from three Republican senators — Knowland (Calif.), Saltonstall (Mass.), and Bridges (N.H.), urging him to stay in line.

What Old Guard Republicans didn't entirely know was that Nixon also was called on by the Northern liberals. Some of them even came to his home at night. One committee of six came to his office — Ives (N.Y.), Smith (N.J.), Potter (Mich.), Republicans; and Douglas (Ill.), Humphrey (Minn.), and Anderson (N. Mex.), Democrats.

"We're not trying to put you on the spot," said Anderson, who had been chosen to lead the fight. "But we think this is bad legislation."

"What are you really getting at?" Nixon asked.

"We think it's outrageous for one Senate by a majority vote to be able to bind all future Senates not to change a rule except by a two-thirds vote," replied Anderson. "We think it might be unconstitutional."

Nixon Was Prepared

Nixon agreed. It was obvious he had been studying the matter. Finally Nixon said:

"I'll be ready to rule when I come back to the chair from lunch at about 2 p. m."

At 2 p. m., however, Nixon beckoned to Senator Anderson on the Senate floor to come up to the rostrum. The debate was in progress. The public had no idea what was happening.

"Don't let him make his inquiry," he whispered, referring to Humphrey, "until I get my papers. I want to go into this very carefully."

Anderson hurried over to Humphrey, whispered: "Hold your horses. Don't move until he notifies us."

The debate droned on. Finally Anderson saw a clerk bring some papers to the Vice President. He edged over to the rostrum and whispered: "Are you ready?"

Nixon nodded. Anderson gave the signal to Humphrey, and the Senator from Minnesota asked the question which gave Nixon a chance to advise that part of Rule 22 on filibustering was unconstitutional.

Probable result of the ruling: (1) Win a huge bloc of Negro votes for Nixon in his ambition for 1960, (2) ensure passage of a civil rights bill whether the filibustering is changed or not.

Merry-Go-Round

Many papers buried it, but Joe McCarthy took a terrific verbal belt at new Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan shortly after Joe got out of the hospital. It should help endear Brennan to his fellow justices. They like him, don't like Joe . . . New Senator Joe Clark of Philadelphia was the first to pick up the idea of introducing a resolution to outlaw Rule 22 on filibustering on the basis of Nixon's ruling that it was unconstitutional. Nixon showed Clark five drafts of his statement, all written in longhand. The fifth was read before the Senate.

Monessen Praised For Cooperation

To the Editor:

The Leukemia Blood Donors League wishes to express its gratitude and appreciation for your wonderful stories and support of our drive when the Bloodmobile visited Monessen on Wednesday, November 21.

The doctor and technicians from Falk Clinic reported this was the best planned and well-organized trip they have made in the six months the Bloodmobile has been operating. Your cooperation aided greatly.

Today and Tomorrow—

Ike Policy Needs Explaining

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The language of the President's address and of the proposed joint resolution is broad and imprecise. This is, one might say, unavoidable when foreign policy is conducted by means of general declarations served up with hot rhetoric. Vagueness and ambiguity are inherent in these grandiose declarations and we must not expect them to be precise and specific and clear.

Mr Lippmann

What they are meant to accomplish is at once to impress mankind and at the same time to give the Secretary of State a free hand to maneuver and negotiate. The proposed resolution speaks, for example, of "the general area of the Middle East," which is a very generalized form of words. It speaks of "any nation controlled by international Communism" which leaves all the difficult questions open.

In view of all this, any one studying the address is bound to pause over the following sentences. Having said that "it is my profound hope that this authority not to employ the armed forces of the United States would never have to be exercised at all" the President then declared that "nothing is more necessary to assure this than that our policy with respect to the defense of the area be promptly and clearly determined and declared."

I have an impression that in the apparent contradiction between this insistence on a clear policy and the vague and imprecise language of the address and the joint resolution, we might find the key to what the new policy is really meant to do.

Two Points Noted

Since nothing is now "clearly determined and declared" we must suppose that the administration hopes eventually to determine clearly and declare our policy for the defense of the area. Let us now note two points. The first, which controls the whole conception, is that this is an offer by the administration to give military assistance to any nation or group of nations "desiring such assistance." The second point is that the President intends "to send a special mission to the Middle East to explain the cooperation we are prepared to give."

The resolution would, therefore, appear to be an attempt by the President to negotiate military assistance agreements with those Middle Eastern nations which may wish to negotiate them. These agreements, which will not be treaties but in the nature of executive agreements, will then constitute a policy for the area which is "clearly determined and declared."

This at least is what — subject to correction — I make out of it. It is certain that there is no clearly determined policy now. It appears that there cannot be a clearly determined policy until the various governments of the Middle East have accepted or rejected "the cooperation we are prepared to give."

What Are Prospects?

The question, then, is: What are the prospects of agreement? They are good enough for the four nations of the Baghdad Pact, for Turkey, for Iran, Pakistan and Iraq. These nations would like the United States to join the Baghdad Pact, and this new policy could be in all but name the equivalent of our joining the Baghdad Pact. Presumably, the President's offer will strengthen the hands of the Prime Minister of Iraq and his hand now needs strengthening.

It stands to reason that Israel will jump at the chance, if in fact it is given the chance, to get a military agreement with the United States. But there is not likely to be much of an agreement with Israel until after Mr. Dulles has had a try at dealing with the hard core of the problem, which is in Egypt, Syria, and Jordan.

As I read the official texts, what the administration is asking from Congress is general authority to be drawn upon in negotiating with the unaligned Arab countries. It is in Egypt and Syria primarily, to some degree in Iraq, that the Soviet Union is extending its influence. It does this largely by working upon the younger officers of the armies, offering them weapons in the hope of military power, and on the intelligentsia who runs the government services. To them it offers money without strict accountability. The American policy seems designed to help the State Department with men and with money to outbid the Russians.

Explanations Needed

If this is the purpose of the undertaking, it is, it seems to me, sound enough. But I cannot help feeling that the President has made it difficult for himself to succeed because of the rhetorical excesses of his address. For he has put the whole project in such a way that it will be very difficult for any Arab country to accept the American offer without aligning itself implacably in the cold war.

Yet what the Arab countries really want is to be neutral in the cold war. And what we really want is that they should remain neutral rather than align themselves with the Soviet Union. After the President's address it will take some explaining to make them feel that we are not asking them to make an irrevocable choice.

Poking Into Albums Isn't too Much Fun

By MARGARET LATROBE

I will never be famous, which is just as well. The thought of having to produce early photographs of yours truly is an appalling one. Just knowing that Ralph Edwards will never tap me on the shoulder, saying, "This is your life," is comfort indeed.

Mrs. Latrobe

Confronted by a brace of photos the way I looked at 12 is all I'd need to run shrieking from the studio, the audience in full gallop right after me. It wasn't so much a question of owning a face not even Mother could love. Actually my features are uh, well, no worse than many and better than some.

It was the stance, the clothes we wore, the hideous haircuts and general savoir faire about pineapple sundaes that did it.

There is one gem awaiting the waste basket (where most of these wretched replicas have ended) showing three youthful figures beside a vintage automobile. At the time, we admired ourselves second only to that car. There is some question now as to our sanity in being able to face either it or ourselves. Apparently the privilege of wearing real silk hose had just been granted. Our substantial underpinnings shone in the noonday sun with a vertical radiance. Those were legs a hockey team could be proud of.

It must have been a winter sun since we wore coats, whose hems hit slightly above the knee. Mine had a wide cape flowing from a collar of black rabbit which subsided at exactly the wrong point amidships. Our hats were helmets dipping from eyebrow smartly down over the ears, with great flaps at the back of the neck playing hob with the rabbit collars.

Mrs. Coolidge, as I recall, was one of the first ladies to be sold on the idea of dipping dress hemlines. We were second. Georgette tails swooped from beneath our "old lady" coats, with a ribbon sash trailing to one side. I recall standing for long minutes before the mirror in the hall, wondering how I could be as beautiful as all that.

The bathing suit ones are worst of all, but having long since found haven in the ash can, they plague me no more. Modern swim suits are designed so well they can even make bad figures look good. In those days — sacks! The best figures looked frightful, and that I didn't have.

Poking through albums may be fun for some. Not for me. The camera hasn't been invented that can make me look like I'd like to look. You know — good. The only way out is to find a portrait painter willing to accept a bribe.

There is one little snapshot I treasure, though. Age one year, a bit bald maybe, but quite cunning. The day I won the blue ribbon at the State Fair, just for sheer health. Oh well . . . who wants fame, anyhow?

National Affairs—

Nixon Getting Breaks For 1960 Ambitions

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)— A good winter book bet today would be Richard M. Nixon against the field for the next Republican presidential nomination.

The political breaks have been going for the young man from California in the weeks since his reelection as vice president. The biggest break, of course, was the fact that he and President Eisenhower polled a record vote last November.

Mr. Wilson

Their tally seems to have refuted the claims of Nixon's opponents that he would cost the ticket some millions of votes. Nixon's greatest political disadvantage is the fear of some Republican leaders that he would not be a prime vote getter on his own.

Doubts Hurt Taft

Identical doubts served to kill off the late Robert A. Taft's chances for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I like Taft, but——" was the way millions of Republicans backed into their explanations of why they wanted some other presidential nominee. These doubts will severely handicap Nixon.

Otherwise, political events are breaking well for Nixon in terms of prestige and Republican Party influence. Mr. Eisenhower continues to demonstrate his confidence in Nixon. Good publicity is just as valuable to a politician with himself to sell as to a manufacturer with some other fancy product.

Mr. Eisenhower's selection of Nixon to investigate the situation of Hungarian refugees in Austria was a publicity jackpot. To the confusion of his left-wing detractors Nixon returned from Austria a champion of relaxed immigration regulations.

Takes Filibuster Stand

To their further confusion, Nixon was given an opportunity last week to take a position on the Senate filibuster dispute. Nixon's position placed him right in the middle of the so-called liberal camp. Moreover, it placed him on record with Negro voters as one of those whose interpretation of Senate filibuster rules would favor enactment of far-reaching civil rights legislation at this session of Congress.

The Communists and some others who dislike the vice president for less reason called a personal foul on Nixon for his Senate filibuster position. They held that he had acted in self-interest. The facts are that there is a scramble among politicians of both parties to win Negro voters. Neither party can win nationally without substantial Negro support unless it be in a contest so one-sided that millions of balance-of-power votes in the industrial states lose their significance.

Behind the News—

King Saud's Visit

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

The visit of King Saud of Saudi Arabia to the United States is likely to give the new Eisenhower Doctrine a big boost.

Saud, about the last remaining absolute monarch in the world, is a member of the Arab League, of which President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt regards himself as the leader. He also has entered into a military alliance with Egypt.

But Saud has kept himself somewhat aloof from the adventures of Nasser and he is firmly anti-Communist.

Saud also enjoys an income of about $200 million a year in royalties from the Arabian American Oil Co., which exploits the vast Saudi Arabian oil reserves. He lets the United States maintain, at Dhahran, one of the most important air bases in the Middle East.

The first Arabian reaction to the Eisenhower Doctrine, under which the President proposes that the United States shall combat any armed Communist aggression in the Middle East, ranged from caution to open hostility.

Imperialism Chief Fear

The chief Arab fear is that United States "imperialism" may move into the Middle East to take the place of the British - French "imperialism" which is being thrown off.

Except in the case of Egypt, Arab comment on the Eisenhower doctrine is now softening somewhat.

King Saud has not committed himself on it. But his state visit to Washington on Jan. 30 certainly will give Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the best possible opportunity of convincing him that there are no traps in their plan to make it harder for Russia to penetrate the Middle East.

If Saud is sold on the plan, he will be able to exert a great deal of influence in its favor among the leaders of other Arab countries.

Many Countries Hostile

He has earned himself the hostility of many countries, and he has failed so far in his ambition to make himself the leader of the Arab world. He may easily outsmart himself and be ousted by his present followers.

Saud, impressive 6 foot 6, hawk-nosed, fearless, sits securely on his throne as ruler of about 7 million Saudi Arabians and more than 900,000 square miles of territory. His oil revenues enable him to maintain a fabulous court.

It ought not to be too hard for Eisenhower and Dulles to convince King Saud that the United States aims solely at opposing aggressive Communism in the Middle East. There are indications that Saud does not approve the way in which Nasser is mortgaging his country to Russia.

It is likely also that Saud's visit will result in a new agreement covering the Dhahran air base.

Clubwomen Taken On Imaginary Tour

Members of the Monessen Woman's Club were taken on an imaginary tour of famous art galleries and museums of the world at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Civic Center. The program was presented by members of the Monongahela Valley Art Club.

Mrs. Donald Compton, of Donora, was in charge of the presentation and was assisted in making the commentaries by Mrs. Ernest Owens, Mrs. W. B Waite and Mrs. Russell Dial, Art Club members.

The views of the galleries and the famous paintings were projected on a screen and then described. Some of the art sites "visited" included the Metropolitan Art Museum and Museum of Modern Art in New York City, Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh; Tate Galleries and National Galleries of London, Museum of Fine Arts and the Louvre in Paris and National Art Galleries in Washington.

Modern art and some of the famous old masterpieces were also shown and described. Included in the showing were, Sun Flowers by Van Gogh, Christ at Emmaus by Rembrandt, Copper Madonna by Raphael, and the Mona Lisa by Di Vinci.

The value of some of these works was described as well as some of the interesting facts surrounding their history.

The vice president, Mrs. Albert Snyder, presided at the session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Richard M. Bow and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Russell Dial.

Routine reports were given and Mrs. Charles Llewellyn, III, reported on the Christmas welfare program during which food baskets were provided for needy families.

Mrs. Robert Swaney was in charge of the music for the afternoon and presented a Monessen High School student, Juanita Carter, who sang "Brown Bird Singing" and "Over the Rainbow". She was accompanied by Miss Reah Seanor.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Ina Kline, Mrs. Joseph Campus, Mrs. Frank Oelschlager, Mrs James Wilson, Mrs. W. B Waite and Mrs. Ralph E. Palmer.

The February meeting will be a Holiday Luncheon held in the gymnasium of the First Methodist Church at 1 p m. Wednesday, Feb. 6. Mrs. Rip Menefee will be in charge of entertainment

Couple Wed At Christian Church Here

A fern banked altar illuminated by the soft glow of candlelight was the setting in the First Christian Church of Monessen on Friday evening, Dec. 28, for the marriage of Joyce Mabel Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Welch, of Charleroi R.D. 1, and Donald Williams Haynes, of San Diego, Cal.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock by the Rev. Vernon Bowers, church pastor, in the presence of family and friends of the couple. White crash lined the aisle used by the bridal party.

Mrs. Ruth Richwine, church organist, played a prelude of nuptial selections and also accompanied the vocalists, Elsie Ries and Lou Barnes, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin and lace with a fitted bodice, a sweetheart neckline with long tapered sleeves ending in points at the wrist. Tiers of lace formed the full skirt, which ended in a chapel sweep. Her gown was made by Mrs. Mary Wilburn. A crown of seed pearls held the fingertip bridal veil and it was accented with sequins An orchid arranged with satin shower streamers and feathered carnations atop a white satin covered Bible served as her bridal bouquet. The Bible was a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of Honor

Carol Welch was made of honor for her sister. She wore a pink taffeta and net ballerina gown with a matching headpiece and carried pink carnations to match her gown. Bernadine Klamorich was bridesmaid and chose a yellow taffeta and net ballerina length gown with a matching headpiece and carried yellow carnations.

The bridegroom asked Thomas Welch, brother of the bride, to be best man and Robert Welch, another brother along with Sonny Holman to usher.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother selected a black silk dress trimmed with white satin Her accessories were black and her corsage of white rosebuds.

A reception in the church social rooms supplemented the ceremony and a miniature bridal couple topped the three tiered wedding cake, which centered the bridal table.

Wedding Trip

The couple left for a short honeymoon and for traveling the bride wore a blue linen dress and her orchid as a corsage

Mrs. Haynes was graduated in 1954 from Charleroi High School and the bridegroom was graduated from San Diego High School. Both are serving in the United States Air Force. They have a newly furnished apartment awaiting them in Florida, where both are stationed Later they plan to live in San Diego, Cal.

After the rehearsal on Wednesday evening members of the bridal party were entertained at the home of the bride's parents. Luncheon was served and the bride and groom presented their attendants with gifts.

1¼ cups milk
2 cups caned corn (cream style)
2 eggs, well beaten

Melt butter in small saucepan, stir in flour, salt and sugar. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Stir in corn and fold in well-beaten eggs. Pour into greased 1-quart casserole and set in pan of hot water. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven (375) degrees, lower temperature to (350 degrees) and continue baking for about 30 minutes, until set. Yield: 6 servings.

Quick Meals Are Easily Prepared With Sausage

Pork sausage was long considered a breakfast dish. It has not lost any of its popularity for serving at this particular meal, but it is more often considered a Sunday or a holiday treat, when there is plenty of time to enjoy it.

Do not reserve sausage for breakfast time. Use it for lunch and at dinnertime either in link or cake form or in combination with other foods. For a quick meal, there is a special link sausage that just needs to be browned quickly.

It is not necessary to prick the usual type of link sausage if it is cooked in a covered skillet. This prevents bursting of the skins. Oven baking is a good method and pricking is not necessary. The bulk sausage should be formed in cakes and cooked rather slowly in an uncovered skillet or in the oven.

Another suggestion for a quick meal is to combine bulk sausage with a can of refrigerated biscuits that need but to be separated and flattened before they are spread with the sausage. Then the dough edges should be pinched together. These sausage "pasties" are crisp and delicious.

COOKING SAUSAGES

Pan-Fried Link Sausage

Separate sausages and place in heavy frying pan. Cover and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Remove cover, turn sausages, increase heat, and cook until golden brown. It is not necessary to prick sausages when this method is used. Allow 2 to 4 links per serving, depending upon size.

Baked Link Sausage

Separate sausages and place in heavy frying pan or in baking pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (400) degree 25 to 30 minutes, until golden brown. Allow 2 to 4 links per serving, depending upon size.

SAUSAGE BAKE

½ pound bulk pork sausage
½ cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Salt
Pepper
1 can (4-ounce) refrigerated biscuits

Fry sausage, celery, green pepper and onion until golden brown and tender. Drain off fat and season to taste. Open can of biscuits and separate each biscuit. Flatten out and place a teaspoon of meat mixture on one-half of each biscuit. Fold dough around the meat, moisten ends of dough and pinch together so that meat is entirely enclosed. Place on baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oved (425) degrees for 10 to 15 minutes or until biscuit dough is done. Serve with mushroom sauce. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

YOUR FOOD PROBLEM

By Edith M. Barber

LEFTOVER MEAT, creamed and curried, makes an attractive and appetizing dish within its delicate cheese-carrot ring.

BEETS WITH CELERY

Drain liquid from canned beets. Pour liquid in saucepan and add 1 cup diced celery and 1 tablespoon minced onion. Cook over low heat about 5 minutes. Add beets and salt and pepper to taste.

Leftover Meat Is Tasty In Many New Recipes

Leftover meat is usually treated respectfully nowadays. The boardinghouse hash joke is completely out of date. There is nothing most of us like better than well-seasoned and well-browned or creamy hash.

There are many other interesting creamed meats. Often, curry is added discreetly. When used in this fashion, it has a subtle flavor and is totally unlike the usually accepted idea of a curry that is so highly seasoned. There are many other powdered or dried herbs, herbs that may take the place of curry, if you like. A bit of thyme, marjoram or oregano may be your choice. Always, the seasoning should be made to taste, as no one recipe will suit every palate.

Edith Barber

An attractive service helps a great deal in making leftover meat dishes attractive. Often we will use a ring of rice or noodles. The former may be placed in a ring to mold, and reheated in hot water if you like. Noodles should be arranged in a ring around the meat. I really prefer to use rice in the same way as, in this case, it remains fluffy.

A combination of cooked rice, a puree of cooked carrots held together with eggs and milk and seasoned with onion and cheese makes an attractive molded ring that, after baking, can be turned out onto a heated platter. It can then be filled with the creamed meat.

CARROT RING WITH CURRIED MEAT

Carrot Ring

2 cups cooked carrots, sieved
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients and mix well. Pour into well-greased 8-inch ring mold. Bake in slow oven (325 degree) for 1 hour. Remove from oven, allow to stand a few minutes, then loosen edges and turn onto hot plate. Fill center with curried meat and serve hot.

Curried Meat

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 cups diced cooked meat
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons curry powder
2 eggs, beaten

Melt butter or margarine, stir in flour and cook a few minutes, slowly add milk and cook until sauce is smooth and thick. Add meat, celery, green pepper and seasonings. Add beaten eggs quickly while stirring vigorously. Continue stirring until mixture is thoroughly heated.

ON THE BALL

By ALLEN KLINE

Let's Look at Niccolai's Record

Two members of the Monessen School Board made it plain this week that they didn't think Greyhound coach Armand Niccolai was doing a good job. Both of them voted to fire the veteran grid boss . . . Quite frankly, the records do NOT support the dissenting directors. Niccolai's record against Big Six opposition during the past decade is as good as any. Let's consider this cold, realistic statistical proof. Against Donora, Niccolai-coached teams have won five games, lost four and tied one. Against Brownsville, the slate is even, five wins and five losses. The Redstone chart favors Niccolai five to three and the Monongahela record is lopsided in his favor: seven wins, two losses and one tie.

Only Charleroi holds an edge over Niccolai. And that advantage is tainted. The Cougars have won six games to Monessen's four the past ten years. But the 1948 decision was hardly authentic. That's the game in which Charleroi won, 7-6, by passing to an ineligible player in a dense fog. Monessen should have won, in all fairness, thus giving Niccolai an even slate against the Cougars, too . . . Furthermore the record book reveals that Monessen has won three Big Six titles under Niccolai. That's as good a mark as posted by any school in the valley . . . All of which proves that "nice guys" win their share of games, even if they don't always please the Monday morning quarterbacks.

Dr. Duda to Speak at Breakfast

Dr. Michael Duda, former superintendent of Monessen schools and current president at California Teachers, will be one of the main speakers at a Communion Breakfast of the Holy Name men at St. Sebastian Church in Belle Vernon on Sunday. Sharing the speakers spotlight will be Rab Currie, Charleroi High's successful football coach. . . . Speaking of Dr. Duda, he's still a great sports fan. A former coach, himself, Dr. Duda explains CSTC's basketball failure this season by pointing out that the Vulcans lack a "big" man . . . And how about Clairton almost upsetting unbeaten McKeesport the other night in basketball. The Bears led in the game up until the final seven seconds.

If the Monessen High basketballers are gloating over their success so far this season, this report from Brownsville reporter Bob Petriello should bring them back to reality. Writes the highly respected Petriello: "We haven't seen Charleroi high school in action this season, but we still take the Cougars to win the Section 5 race in a breeze. Many told us that Monessen High would give the Cougars trouble, but after watching the Hounds in action against Brownsville recently we like Charleroi even better. The Hounds simply don't have it this season and they are one of the poorest Monessen teams in years."

MHS Cheerleaders Are Pretty Too

Through their sponsors, Antoinette Valentine and Marge Wilson, the Monessen High cheerleaders politely complain that their work isn't receiving proper attention on these pages. If not, we offer a blushing apology. The pretty Greyhound cheerleaders are so capable year after year that we've come to take them for granted. The current edition yells with the best of them . . . Charleroi school officials have written a gracious letter to Monessen authorities, thanking them for the use of the MHS gym as a practice site for the Cougar cagers during the recent remodeling at the Magic City floor . . . Redstone High is looking for a football foe to fill the September 19 vacancy.

MONESSEN PLAYS CALIFORNIA NEXT

Advance Plans For District 'A' Grid Conference

Plans for a proposed conference of district Class A football teams were advanced last night during a meeting in Brownsville.

No less than eleven schools sent representatives to the session to indicate that they were still interested in the plan.

Raymond Barker, Bellmar principal, conducted the meeting as temporary chairman of the steering committee.

Named to draw up by-laws for the new group were William Means, North Union; C. W. Frankhouser, South Union; George J. Plava, German Twp. Raymond Ronco, Scottdale and Barker.

Represented at the meeting were Bellmar, Georges Twp., California, Chartiers, Burgettstown, Scottdale; Dunbar, North Union, South Union, Carmichaels and German Twp.

Another school — Waynesburg — has been represented at previous meetings and was believed interested in the conference.

Two Divisions

If Waynesburg joins, then the conference will probably be divided into two six-team divisions. A playoff game will then decide the eventual champion.

Since schedule-making is undertaken two and three years in advance, the new conference probably will not offer a complete schedule until 1959, a spokesman said.

However a name may be adopted this fall. It was suggested that a contest be staged in the respective schools for a suitable title.

Last night's meeting was one of several in recent weeks in an effort to organize the conference. Other sessions have failed to produce concrete results.

Negro Tours Southern Course

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UP) — James Williams, an 18-year-old Negro who caddies at the Eastwood Golf Club here, became the first of his race to play Charlotte's Bonnie Brae course and he made the event even more memorable by firing a one-over-par 37 for nine holes. Williams showed up at about 9:35 a.m. Wednesday and played the nine holes by himself.

Penn State Upsets Temple Five, 62 to 53

By UNITED PRESS

Penn State used a tight zone defense and some accurate shooting Wednesday night to upset the Temple Owls, 62-53, at University Park.

Bob Edward and Steve Baidy scored 37 points between them in leading the Nittany Lions to their eighth victory against three defeats. Edwards carded 20 points and Baidy 17. Penn State took command at the opening whistle and was never headed.

Temple's scoring duo of Guy Rodgers and Jay Norman were outshined by the performances of Edward and Baidy. Rodgers collected 17 points and Norman 10 as Temple registered its third loss against six victories.

At Waynesburg, Washington and Jefferson captured its seventh victory in eight starts Wednesday night by edging the Yellow Jackets, 65-63. Harry Sydor led the W&J attack with 16 points while teammate Larry Rombowski carded 16.

W and J Wins

Waynesburg was paced by Bill Burns with 14 and Ernie Latanzio with 12.

(Latanzio is a former Monessen High player.)

After a 30-all deadlock at halftime, the lead switched four times in the second half. Then, with the score tied 59-all and one minute and 26 seconds remaining, W&J scored two quick baskets and stayed in front.

Tech Loses Again

Carnegie Tech dropped its seventh game in 10 starts Wednesday night to Geneva by a 78-69 score. The contest was close until the final minutes when the taller Covies began to control the boards.

Billy Blair of Geneva paced all scorers with 26 points while teammate Len Clarke collected 16. Alan Frank scored 19 and Mike Flynn 14 for Tech.

On tonight's district card, the Pitt Panthers host Bucknell, a team that has tasted defeat only once in 10 games. In other games, California Teachers are at West Liberty, Central State at Steubenville, Clarion at Grove City, Indiana Teachers at Saint Vincent and Westminster at Juniata.

Slaughter Signs With Yankees at Reported $20,000

By UNITED PRESS

Enos (Country) Slaughter, baseball's old warhorse who insists on kicking up his heels like a young colt for the world champion New York Yankees, is all set to play his 17th season in the big leauges at the age of 41.

The Yankees announced today that the hustling outfielder has agreed to his 1957 contract estimated to call for a $20,000 salary.

Slaughter, who will reach his 41st birthday on April 27, just after the season opens, sparkled for the Yankees in the 1956 season. His two-run homer proved the winning blow in the third game of the World Series, turning the tide in favor of the Yankees for the first time when Brooklyn seemed on the way to the title.

Other signings were announced today by Milwaukee, Detroit, and the Chicago Cubs.

Braves Sign Rookie

The Braves signed rookie catcher Carl Sawatski, who hit .280 for Toronto in the International League, but have a long way to go with only two players under contract.

Detroit boosted its total to 18 signed with pacts from reliever Bill Tuttle, who hit .253 last year, and first baseman Earl Torgeson, who batted .264.

Bulldogs, Panthers Cop in GAPA Loop

Bulldogs won two games from the Irish and Panthers earned a pair from the Trojans in GAPA Bowling league action last night.

Top scorers were Gus Manos, 188-460; John Apodiakos, 164-454; John Kootsouradis, 157-443, James Peters, 149-440.

State Player on Soccer All-Stars

NEW YORK (UP) — Players from Drexel Tech of Philadelphia, Penn State and West Chester (Pa.) College have won berths on the 1956 All-America college soccer squad selected by the National Soccer Coaches Assn.

Per Torgerson of Penn State was named to the inside half slot on the second team and David Whitney of Drexel was selected as second team goalie.

Trojans Will Visit MHS Gym Tomorrow For Section 5 Game

Both favored Charleroi and challenging Monessen are favored to win Section 5 assignments tomorrow without too much trouble.

Monessen will be at home to California while Charleroi will play host to Brownsville.

The Greyhounds have already disposed of two league foes — Brownsville and Bellmar — to run their undefeated string in Section 5 competition to 36 over a four year stretch.

They are solid choices to add California to the list even though the Trojans have shown improved form of late. The Californians, boasting good size but not much balance, handled Bellmar in their opening league game of the season.

Too Much Strength

Charleroi appears to have too much strength for invading Brownsville.

The Brownies have divided two loop assignments to date. They lost to Monessen but rebounded to take Donora. Charleroi was an easy winner in its only league test at Monongahela.

One other Section 5 game is scheduled tomorrow. Bellmar will go to Donora.

The Canes have lost both league outings so far while Donora has divided a pair.

Over in Section 10, Rostraver hopes to resume its title bid with a win over visiting Ligonier.

The Leps beat Dunbar but lost a close decision at Hurst in previous section assignments. Ligonier dropped its only outing against Ramsay.

Section 10 Games

Other Section 10 games will send Hurst to Scottdale and Dunbar to Derry Twp.

The Section 17 race will be stepped up with East Huntingdon at South Huntingdon, Irwin at Sewickley and West Newton at Perryopolis.

Attention will center on the latter game. Both the Hornets and Perry have title ambitions this season.

In Junior WPIAL play, two games are carded in Section 2 this afternoon. California will go to Charleroi and Monongahela to Donora.

In Section 3, Perryopolis will appear at Rostraver.

Tomorrow a Section 2 pairing will show Washington at Monessen. The Friday slate in Section 3 will have Vernon at Carroll Twp. and Fallowfield at Marion.

Charleroi Game Tickets Go on Sale Tomorrow

Tickets for the Charleroi-Monessen basketball game on January 22 will go on sale tomorrow at the MHS gym.

Faculty manager Armand Mori said the sale will begin at 6:30 p. m. in the gym corridor prior to the California game.

Only reserved seat tickets will be sold. The sale will be limited to two tickets per customer. Only adults will be permitted to make purchases.

Mori suggested that fans buy their tickets early. School officials anticipate a sellout crowd.

All student tickets will be sold through the school.

Ohms Sweep in Electric League

Ohms swept over the Amps and Volts took a pair from the Watts to open second half action in the Blooming Mill Electric Bowling League on Tuesday.

Steve Swansick rolled a 220 game to set a new season record.

Top scorers were Cy Brown, 177-461; Clarence Echart, 167-439; Norman Frantz, 202-432; Ray Echart, 179-426; Bob McKeever, 169-424; and Phil Faraci, 153-423.

St. Louis Upset By Wichita in Missouri Action

By UNITED PRESS

The Missouri Valley Conference, long noted as one of the nation's toughest basketball loops, lived up to its reputation again today when title favorite St. Louis bit the dust in its first league appearance.

St. Louis went into Wednesday night's game against Wichita with the No. 15 national ranking and a record that included victories over such powers as Kentucky and Louisville. But the Billikens came out on the short end of a 69-64 score, a poor omen for their title hopes.

Louisville, which has been steadily on the upgrade since its loss to St. Louis and now is ranked fifth nationally, registered its ninth win in 11 starts Wednesday night, 93-71, over Memphis State.

Wichita Leads

Wichita jumped ahead of St. Louis, 36-32, at halftime in their game at Wichita, breaking a 32-32 tie, and never again trailed. The Shockers hit 40.6 per cent of their shots in scoring the upset and were led by guard Joe Stevens with 21 points. Harold Alcorn paced St. Louis with 18 as the in-and-out Bills suffered their fifth loss against seven wins.

Six-eight Charley Tyra, Louisville's All-America candidate, racked up 20 points in another fine showing in the Cardinals' home victory, but had to yield game scoring honors to teammate Bill Darragh, who had 26. Louisville led all the way in scoring its fifth straight victory.

Wake Forest, ranked 14th nationally, will be the only high-ranked squad in action tonight, facing Seton Hall at Madison Square Garden.

Monessen Fifth Still in First Despite Upset

The Monessen Fifth Avenue girls were still firmly atop the Mon Valley Ladies Bowling League standings today despite a shocking two-to-one drubbing at the hands of Bentleyville last weekend.

Clara Ross paced the second-division Bentleyville team to the upset by rolling a 167-475 chart. For Monessen, Helen Skeloski was high with 186-462.

Oddly enough, the Monessen girls spilled 2124 pins during the three game match. That was a higher total than any other team turned in over the weekend.

In other matches, Charleroi won two from Uniontown, Fredericktown earned a pair from Donora, Monongahela blanked Belle Vernon and Connellsville swept over Vestaburg.

Scoring leaders were Millie Rovny, 221-485 (Charleroi), Libby Nara, 169-469 (Uniontown); Peg Johnston, 169-449 (Donora); Mary Kay, 178 - 417 (Fredericktown); Dolly Biagini 130-322 (Belle Vernon); Helen Koch, 164-408 (Monongahela).

Decisive Scores End Saints Loop

The first half race in the St. Cajetan Bowling League ended on a decisive note last night. All matches were clean sweeps.

League-leading St. Francis blanked Fordham, Notre Dame swept over St. Vincent and Georgetown whitewashed Duquesne.

As a result, St. Francis, Notre Dame, Duquesne and St Vincent qualified for playoff berths.

Top scorers included Joe Gallo, 184-491; Joe Luketich, 187-468, Steve Hardoby, 183-504; Joe Basile, 150-435, Jim Zummaro, 145-413; and Tom Dalfonso, 169-403.

Final standings show St Francis, 28-17; Notre Dame, 27-18, Duquesne, 27-18; St Vincent, 20-25; Georgetown, 17-28, and Fordham, 16-29.

Kroskie Sets New Hearth Record

The second half race started in the Open Hearth Bowling League with a bang last night.

Ed Kroskie rolled a brilliant 261-664 series to set a new season record.

All matches wound up in two-to-one decisions. Balmers topped Whitehouse, Van Marters bested Weddell and Minardis beat out Maykovich.

Other scoring leaders were Joe Salay, 200-501, Andy Dacko, 180-465; John Kerr, 168-482, Al Greco, 238-504; Steve Simon, 209-536; John Zdilla, 204-527

Monessen Loses In PNA Bowling

Monessen lost three games to Charleroi in the start of second half action in the Mon Valley PNA Ladies Bowling League last weekend.

In another match, Bentleyville won a pair from Arnold City.

Top scorers were Helen Grusva (Monessen) 141-341, Stella Kroskie (Arnold City) 145-366; Steffy Stickly (Bentleyville) 144; Mary Tomich (Charleroi) 144; Nellie Marshalck (Bentleyville) 366, Ann DeCock (Charleroi) 367.

Ravens, Florists In Double Wins

Ravens won two games from the Diethornes and Florists earned a pair from Mihalich in Grand Parlors City League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders were Mike Adamio, 233-593; Sam Havrilak, 193-507; James Szabo, 203-502; Ed Kroskie, 175-496; and Leo Lewitsky, 189-491.

Standings show Mihalich, 4-2, Florists, 4-2; Diethornes, 2-4, and Ravens, 2-4.

City Loop Race Two Team Affair

Cro-Ams, Viaduct Pull Away from Pack with Impressive Decisions

There's no doubt now that the City Basketball League race has turned into a two team affair.

The Cro-Ams and Viaduct pulled further away from the pack last night with impressive wins at the Junior High gym.

The Cro-Ams scored their tenth straight decision by mauling S-L, 55-24. Meanwhile Viaduct made it nine wins in ten tries by spanking Big Five, 56-40.

In another match, East End nursed playoff hopes by nipping the Yellow Jackets, 39-34.

The City League race will resume tonight with a triple-header program. Viaduct will meet East End at 7; Cips will take on the Fuocos at 8 and Ozarks will tangle with the Yellow Jackets at 9.

Dominico Top Scorer

Sam Dominico paced the unbeaten Cro-Ams to their easy win by tossing in 14 points. Bob Petty had 13 and Fred Uhlman 10.

For S-L, Tom Kovach was high with a dozen.

Viaduct led from start to finish against Big Five to win impressively. Mike Young, a clutch player, came through with 20 points. For the losers, John Bronson had 23.

Ed Burdock looped in 17 tallies to lead East End to a hard-earned win at the expense of the Yellow Jackets. Nick Rullo was top man for the losers, hitting for nine points:

Newcombe's Wounds In Series Have Healed

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — The scars still may be deep inside, but Don Newcombe insisted with surface calm today that his hurting World Series wounds had healed.

Big Newk was the hero of the National League season as he won 27 games and the most valuable player honors. But two crucial failures made him the unquestioned "bum" of the World Series.

And the resultant charges that he didn't have the heart to win the "big" ones for a while turned the ponderous pitcher into a scowling, sulking recluse.

"I just had to clear my mind of a lot of stuff," he explained with easy conviction. "It was a lot of stuff which shouldn't have been there anyhow. You do the best you can, and that's that. I know I did my best and I should not have let anybody get under my skin."

Jibes at Random

Most people he meets, Newcombe mused, are more sympathetic than critical. But the jibes still come at random moments and they have to be like the twisting of a knife. Which is one of the reasons, apparently, why he'll go south Feb. 1 to start training a month early—and pass up the New York Baseball Writers' dinner at which he is certain to be the main target of a show noted for its biting humor.

Newcombe, if doing some acting of his own, carries it off well as he speaks philosophically of his two series beatings.

"I hurt my elbow in the last game I pitched in the regular season," the 6-foot, 4-inch Newcombe said softly. "That's not an alibi. It's just so. Then, in Japan, I pitched only once and it was as sore as a toothache. But I've had it before, it feels all right now, and I'm sure I'll be all right."

On Strict Diet

Big Newk, who weighs a heavy 225 pounds when he is in top condition, disclosed that he had picked up "about 15 pounds" during the off season and had gone on a strict diet to pare his weight before shoving off for spring training.

"I lost nine pounds in the last week," he said. "So I'll be okay when the season starts."

Outside, that is. Because, despite his apparent calm, those two whippings at the hands of the Yankees undoubtedly will be difficult to shake from a mental standpoint. Newk thinks he has it licked.

But he won't really know 'til the whistle blows the next time he goes to the post in one of those so far frustrating "big ones."

Two Sweeps in Fabric League

Yankees blanked the Indians and Pirates swept over the Giants in Fabric Bowling League action last night.

In another match, Dodgers won a pair from the Senators.

Top scorers were Bob Hawk, 162-382; Nick Smerilli, 167-467; Bob Mitchell, 141-412; Spud Spadafore, 194-503; John Sobran, 151-403 and John Polinchak, 221-572 (a new league record).

Standings show Yankees, 8-4; Dodgers, 8-4; Pirates, 7-5; Senators, 6-6; Giants, 4-8; and Indians, 2-9.

Close Scores in Welders Bowling

Wilhams won two games from American Torch and Lincoln earned a pair from Martin Service in Welders Bowling League action last night.

Scoring leaders were Joe Koget, 162-457; John Komonder, 171-456; Norman Zanardelli, 171-471; and Frank Mager, 144-399.

Standings show Williams, 5-1; American, 3-3; Martin, 2-4; and Lincoln, 2-4.

Worrell Picked On First Team By 'Wisemen'

Robert (Red) Worrell, star Centerville High fullback for the past four seasons, was named today to the first eleven of the tenth annual "Prep" All-American team picked by the Wigwam Wisemen of America.

The 208 pound Worrell is only the second district player ever to win a first string berth in the nation-wide selections. John Konek of California was so honored in the late forties.

Myron Pottios, Charleroi's 209 pound fullback was placed on the second team while Bob Myden, 220 pound tackle from Uniontown made the third string.

In all some 649 players were selected, with 57 of them from Pennsylvania.

Making the selections were representatives from 1,229 daily newspapers, 1,009 radio stations, 307 television outlets, plus 310 football game officials and 123 college football talent scouts.

District boys on the honorable mention list are William Olsavsky and Charles Packan, of Redstone; Ted Zetsz, Centerville; Eugene Nopwasky, Carmichaels; Gene Virgilli, Jefferson; and Ronald Delfine, Canonsburg.

State Group to Make Payment On Race Track

CLEVELAND (UP)—A Pennsylvania syndicate, headed by Dan Parrish of Pittsburgh, will make the first payment of $500,000 today in a deal to purchase the Randall Park race track here.

The group, which includes Pittsburgh Steelers owner Art Rooney, is scheduled to sign papers in the office of their attorney, Homer Marshman to purchase the track for an estimated $3 600.000.

The deal was confirmed by Randall Park President Saul Silberman, now in Miami. He said the sale will be submitted to stockholders Jan. 22 here.

Silberman and his construction business partner in Baltimore, Ralph Dichiaro, are the principal Randall stockholders.

The Parrish group, which will have Ed Moon as general manager of the Ohio track, outbid a group of Cleveland investors who attempted to buy the track.

Silberman purchased Randall in 1950 for $950 000. In six years he modernized the racing plant and raised the annual betting handle from $150,000 daily to $482,000.

Jackie Robinson Turns Down Whopping Offer by New York

NEW YORK (UP) — Jackie Robinson rejected the highest offer of his career today and prepared to write his formal farewell to baseball.

The 38-year-old Negro star, ending his career amid the same swirl of controversy with which it began, revealed that he is turning down more than $30,000 and "other considerations" to play this year with the New York Giants. He said his formal request for voluntary retirement would be sent to National League President Warren Giles "no later than next Tuesday."

"I only regret this offer wasn't made to me a couple of years ago," said Robinson by way of thanking the Giants for their generous offer. "I would have loved to play for people like Horace Stoneham and Chub Feeney."

Final Bid

It was Feeney, the Giants' vice president, who made the final bid to lure Jackie back "for one more year." The offer, a contract for more than $50,000 in 1957 and a subsequent job in the Giants' organization, was made Wednesday night. News of the offer leaked out and Robinson discussed it with reporters before appearing on a television program.

Robinson, whose top salary with the Brooklyn Dodgers was $42,500, said he thought "I convinced Feeney that I won't be playing," and added, "I don't believe I could do the Giants any good."

Very Little Chance

"He told me to think it over and give him the benefit of the doubt if there was the slightest chance I'd play," Robinson said. "I told him there was very, very little chance. I didn't give him a definite answer, but in my own mind I know how I feel."

The Giants cancelled a press conference they intended to call for this morning in the hope of announcing Robinson's return to the game but Feeney did hold out a faint hope that Jackie would change his mind.

In addition to Robinson's drawing power the Giants needed him desperately as a first base replacement for the drafted Willie White and also believed he would prove a spark for Willie Mays, their brilliant young center fielder whose play tailed off considerably in 1956.

The first known importation —at New Orleans—was in the late 1860s.

Basilio Asks for Delay in His Title Defense

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio was scheduled to face the doctor today on his request to have his Jan. 1 title defense against Johnny Saxton postponed because of a hand injury suffered in training.

Dr. J.W. Lambright Jr., who pronounced Basilio "fit" after a surprise examination last Sunday, was to take a closer look at the right hand of the champion from Chittenango, N.Y.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins of the Cleveland Arena said Basilio has asked for a two-week postponement but, because of Golden Gloves bouts in the arena during the latter part of this month, no re-match would be possible before Feb.

Atkins said he still planned to put on a nationally-televised fight show on Jan. 1, but would now have to seek two new headline fighters if the boxing commission approved the postponement of the Basilio-Saxton rematch.

Basilio had been rated a 2-1 favorite for his third and rubber title match against Saxton of New York. In the first meeting at Chicago Stadium, March 14, 1956, Saxton won a hotly disputed decision as 21 of 28 writers present favored Basilio. In their rematch, at Syracuse Auditorium, Sept. 12, 1956, Basilio scored a technical knockout at 1:31 of the ninth round.

Freeman Decides He Won't Play

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Robin Freeman, devoting most of his time to his law studies at Ohio State, has decided to abandon plans to play basketball. The former All-America who lost one finger in a woodchopping accident last year, was slated to play for a local team in the Columbus League.

Broyles Named Missouri Coach

ST. LOUIS (UP)— The names are changed but the system will be much the same at the University of Missouri this fall, where young Frank Broyles of Georgia Tech will succeed Don Faurot as head coach.

Faurot, who will continue as Tiger athletic director, said he hoped some of Broyles' success at Georgia Tech with the split-T which Faurot invented, would rub off at Missouri.

Hornung Signs Packer Contract

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Paul Hornung, twice an All-America quarterback at Notre Dame, was "tickled pink" today about his three year contract with the Green Bay Packers, even though he turned down a "real fabulous offer" from Canada.

Hornung signed the Packer agreement, for an estimated $15,000 per year, in a conference with club President R. W. Bogda. The pact provides for him to play three seasons with the Packers, even though the continuity might be interrupted by military service.

Hornung, who was 21 last month, is not in any reserve training program and hence will be eligible for a draft call any time after his graduation from Notre Dame in June. Normally, however, a student can remain out of service for about one year.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and daughter, Mrs. Marie Von Bergen, who died two years ago today, January 10, 1955.
Gone, dear loved one, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
Sadly missed by Husband, Mother and Children

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Ella McCrae, who died one year ago today, January 10, 1956.
What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see.
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But in some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife.
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.
Sadly missed by Husband and Children

Ship Topples Over While in Hoboken Dock

HOBOKEN, N.J. (UP)—A 16,000 ton ship tipped on its drydock early today and crashed into an adjoining dry dock containing another vessel. Eight men were reported injured.

Police said both drydocks were "breaking up" and threatened to pitch the vessels into the Hudson River.

A policeman told United Press the vessel that tipped over—the passenger - freighter "Oslofjord"—"had its seacocks open and will sink right away if it hits the water."

The other ship was not identified immediately.

The accident occurred at 4:50 a.m. in the Bethlehem Steel Co. drydock yard at 14th and Hudson streets.

Fire company hook-and-ladder units worked several hours to evacuate 200 crewmen sleeping aboard the "Oslofjord", police said.

Only two of the eight men injured were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, here. One of the men was reported to have suffered two broken legs. The others were treated at the Bethlehem Co. infirmary.

Police said the Oslofjord had taken on a 60-degree list. The vessel in the adjoining drydock was reported "listing slightly."

Fire companies, police and civil defense units went to the scene.

Had an 'Urge'; Starts $250,000 Fire in Office

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A 31-year-old file clerk said today an "irrepressible urge" caused him to touch off a spectacular $250,000 fire in a downtown office building, his second and most successful arson try of the day.

The suspect, Harold D. Eisert, 31, of Oakland, was picked up at the scene of the fire just outside the Hansford Building. At the time, the fire was raging at its height.

Eisert confessed four hours later that he was the man who set a one-alarm blaze in the same building at 10:30 a.m. and the second at 4:30 p.m.

The second blaze went to five alarms, the equivalent of a general alarm. It caused an estimated $250,000 damage and sent 250 persons fleeing to the street. The basement and a score of offices and stores were gutted.

Ike to Ask Foreign Dignitaries Visit

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower plans to invite a number of foreign dignitaries to visit the United States this year, informed sources said.

This will mark return of the Eisenhower "person. diplomacy" campaign to win friends for the United States around the world.

Since Mr Eisenhower has been in office, some 40 top-ranking foreign dignitaries have made official visits to the United States, but the flow fell off when he became ill last summer.

State to Review Building Costs For Our Schools

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Public Instruction Department will begin a comprehensive research program next month to review school construction costs in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent, said the program, to be continuous, will investigate all phases of school construction to determine what is "good and bad" in planning and financing school plants. He estimated the annual cost of the survey at about $40,000.

"In view of the enormous amount of state subsidies for school construction, the Department of Public Instruction must be kept constantly aware of what is good and what is bad in school building and financing," he said. "As the research demonstrates more practical and economical methods of school construction, the department will bring the information to local school districts through its staff of regional building consultants and the Bureau of School Buildings."

Ladies Guild Officers Are Installed Here on Tuesday

The newly elected officers of the Ladies Guild and Christian Mothers were installed by the Rev. Charles Ribick, pastor of St. Edward's Catholic Church in the church parish hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ruth McGinsky received the president's gavel from the retiring president, Mrs. Helen Bolchak.

The meeting opened with the Christian Mothers prayers, led by Father Ribick. For his spiritual talk he chose as his topic, "The Christian Mothers, an Organization of Sisterhood." The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Bolchak who heard the report of the secretary, Millie Skibo and the treasurer, Dorothy Helgus.

The two officers closed the business of the year and the report of the auditing committee was given by Mrs. Edith Rihtarcik. Serving as auditors with Mrs. Rihtarcik were Mrs. Emma Krimpasky and Mrs. Kathryn Vesely. Mrs. Bolchak then turned over her duties to Mrs. McGinsky with a brief talk in which she expressed her gratitude for the co-operation she had received from her officers and the members of the society during 1956.

Installed along with the president were: Marie Koliscak, vice-president; Margaret Baron, recording secretary; Adeline Barch, treasurer; Mary Vargo and May Muzina, financial secretaries; Rose Package, historian; Kathryn Vesely and May Traversarra, publicity chairmen.

With Mrs. McGinsky presiding, plans were made to hold a social party in the Parish Hall on Sunday Jan 27 at 7:30. Emma Lovich and Stella Kroskie were named co-chairmen. They will be assisted by Kathryn Dorcan, Jay Swintak, Mary McKee, Dorothy Helgas, Cora Sablac and Margaret Pozum.

The members of the society having birthdays in January were honored. Gloria Lint and Millie Onufar were named co-chairmen for the program for the February meeting. Prizes were awarded to K. Vesely, J. Swintak, Marjorie Chicchiani, K. Dorcan, Millie Gilotti and Ida May Berna.

Hostesses for the social hour were, Mary, Frances and Kathryn Vesely, Helen Bolchak, Helen Triengo, Millie Gillotti, Margaret Baron, Evelyn Krivda and Rose Madelink.

Church Class Holds Meeting

The Elizabeth M. Hackett Class of the Fayette City Presbyterian Sunday School met Tuesday evening in the church educational building, with the newly installed president, Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler, presiding.

The worship service was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. D. Earl Daniel. During the business meeting definite plans were made for the serving of a covered dish dinner for the congregational meeting that will be held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 16.

The group also discussed plans for their Spring program. Following the business meeting the hostess, Mrs. George McCrory, served refreshments.

Board in Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Fayette City Building Association will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the club rooms of the Community Center.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Elizabeth M. Hackett Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School, previously announced for tomorrow evening, will not be held until Friday, Jan. 18.

Mrs. Mary Schrop, of Harrisburg, is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Read Brightwell, Connellsville street.

Growing Spurts Often Bring Emotional Upsets

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

The ages between five and nineteen are the healthiest years of life. Fewer Americans die during this period than at any other time. And each decade the record gets better and better.

This doesn't mean that these years will be smooth sailing for your youngsters.

Far from it. It's during this time that most children encounter real emotional problems, even though you are apt to take them lightly.

One of their chief concerns will be their growth. And you've got to understand how they feel in order to help them.

Youngsters begin their adolescent spurts at various ages. Girls generally begin this quick growing period earlier than boys. If a girl becomes gawky at the age of 1 or 11 she is likely to become very self-conscious.

She'll be touchy about her size, worry about her complexion and probably cry very readily. Ridicule from other boys and girls is a frequent hazard at this tender age. Make sure she isn't ridiculed at home and give her sympathy without being too obvious about it.

She'll want this sympathy, even though she might outwardly appear to resent it.

Being a "shorty," on the other hand, might be just as great a problem, especially when other youngsters in the neighborhood have already begun their growing spurt. Boys, particularly, are bothered by a late growing period.

If your youngster is one whose adolescent spurt is somewhat delayed, you've got to do your best to assure him that there is nothing wrong with him, and that eventually he'll be as much a man as his friends who are presently at that awkward stage.

And don't think that an early spurt doesn't present problems for a boy, too. His voice will break just at the wrong times and he'll seem to be all legs and arms. A faint hint of a coming moustache will probably appear on his lip.

Siamese Cat to Be the Star in Motion Picture

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The first movie talent search of 1957: Two producers are looking for a new star with blue eyes, brown feet and a devilish personality.

For the first time, a Siamese cat will be a star of a motion picture, "Bell, Book and Candle," from the Broadway hit play.

On the stage the cat, Pyewacket, mostly ambled about, perched on his mistress' shoulder or snoozed in laps. But when producers Julian Blaustein and Dan Taradash bought the play for movies they decided to build up the cat's role.

Now Pyewacket will have to dodge traffic on a street, walk along a window ledge that will appear to be outside a tall building and try to commit suicide in despair.

This plum role has alerted cat owners around the country, and Blaustein and Taradash are up to their whiskers in applications from Siamese cats at Columbia Studio. One lady wrote that her cat can even wash his face on cue.

"We interviewed some alley cats, er, short-haired domestics," Blaustein said. "But we decided to go for the Siamese. The cat has to have an air of mystery."

In the story, the leading lady (Kim Novak is a hot contender for the role) actually is a witch in disguise and does her deeds through the sinister cat. Rex Harrison may leave "My Fair Lady" to play the hero.

Presbyterian Society Hears Missionary Program Here

A missionary program and a business session highlighted the meeting held by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was preceded by the serving of a one o'clock luncheon by a hostess committee comprised of Mrs. Roy Smock, Mrs. Chris Bakewell, Mrs. Maurice Kennie, Mrs. David Scholl, Mrs. Gilbert Smock and Mrs. E. A. Welch. The table centerpiece was an arrangement of "roses in the snow" flanked by tall lighted tapers. Mrs. R. J. Waite asked the invocation.

The theme adopted by the society for the year 1957 was "Christ's Way Every Day". Mrs. C. L. Schoaf was devotional leader and the subject was "Jesus' Teaching on Citizenship and Christian Responsibilities".

Miss Gemmill offered the prayer for missionaries in Brazil and the West Indies.

Two letters were read, one from Emily Clark, a missionary for the society contributions to Ganado Mission and the second from Mrs. George L. Kress, of Gibsonia. Mrs. Kress, wife of a former pastor of the local church told of some of her work with newly organized women's groups in her new home church.

The new president, Mrs. Reed Carson, presided at the session and announced a meeting of the executive board of the Redstone Presbyterial in West Newton on Feb. 7. This will be an all day meeting and the Rev. William Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Uniontown, will be the speaker. He will tell of his trip to Alaska as a missionary. Mrs. Carson or Mrs. Samuel Beall will arrange transportation if contacted by anyone wishing to attend.

It was also announced that Carol June VanBremen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanBremen, of Lynnwood, who has been at work as a missionary in Kentucky has been assigned to the mission fields of Africa.

Mrs. Gerald Stanley was topic leader and discussed, "Christ's Way Every Day of the Year".

Mrs. George Wilkinson and Mrs. Walter Leitch discussed the subject "Women's Work in the Church" and told of the part the women played in establishing the church in the early days. They also discussed women's kwork in the church today.

Mrs. Stanley told a story "Flight 1957 of New Year".

Mrs. Steve Ruby was newscaster and read several articles on missionaries in various parts of the world. She also offered the closing prayer.

The January meeting of the Edna Marston Class of the First Baptist Church has been cancelled.

King's Daughters Class Meets at Nichols Home

Mrs. Nellie Nichols, of Pricedale, was hostess to members of the King's Daughters Class of the First Baptist Church at her home on Tuesday evening. The devotional period was conducted by Olivia Keracik, who took her scripture from the Book of Matthew.

Mrs. Keracik read an article, "Thoughts for the New Year" by Mary Pierce and a poem, "That God May Lead Thee".

During the business session plans were made for purchasing new furniture for the class room at the church. A donation was voted to the March of Dimes. Cards were sent to the ill members.

Plans were made for the February meeting at the home of June River. There will be an exchange of home made valentine gifts. Nellie Nichols will be devotional leader and will have charge of games.

Mrs. Keracik conducted the game period and those winning prizes were Kay Hanchin. Elizabeth Keracik. Minnie Burkhart and Kathy Rosborough.

The hostess served luncheon and presented a miniature crocheted basket favor to each of the members.

Patriotic Order Plans Grocery Party Feb. 6

The Patriotic Order of America met yesterday afternoon at the home of the president. Mrs. Bertha MacDonald, of Main street. She was in charge of the session which began with the pledge of allegiance and the 23rd Psalm.

There was a routine business meeting on Feb. 6, when a grocery party will be held.

A program of readings was given with Mrs. Nora Pro reading, "Smelling Chicken", Lutritia Nutt, "Santa Claus" and Reba Robertson, "Mink Coat".

During the social hour the birthday anniversary of Lutritia Nutt was observed and she was presented a birthday cake and gifts. Luncheon was served and games were played with prizes being awarded to Lutritia Nutt. Mabel Yeaton, Della Forsythe, Alice Smith, Birdie MacDonald, Nora Pro, Reba Robertson and Rhonda Cramer.

Women of Moose Discuss Plans For Activities

A social meeting of the Belle Vernon Women of the Moose was held on Tuesday evening in the lodge rooms with Senior Regent Naomi Brizzi in charge. She instructed the co-workers in the new ritualistic program for meetings.

Chaplain Irene Steinmiller read the opening prayer and Junior Regent Thelma Smock led in the pledge of allegiance. There were 22 members present.

A letter of appreciation was read from Chapter Mother Mary Perucca, of West Newton, for cards and gifts sent her during her illness.

The Belle Vernon chapter has been chosen to take part in the Mid-winter Conference in recognition of the work done over the past year. It will be held in Finleyville, Jan. 27, at 1:30 p. m. and the Belle Vernon Chapter will do the initiation.

Martha Coyle reported on the places available for the annual anniversary banquet. which will be held Feb. 12, at Peasant Village. Thea Dominico will be gift committee chairman. Helen Henry, chairman for Child Care was in charge of the social hour.

Assisting her were Martha Coyle, Mary Bukosky, Alice Maylen, Edith Thot and Ann Escareno. The birthday table was set by Margaret Lambert and the cake baked by Naomi Brizzi. Birthdays of Rose Ambrose and Thelma Smock were observed and each received a small gift and an individual birthday cake.

Luncheon was served and cards and games were played. Prizes were won by Margaret Hupchick, Margaret Lambert and Thelma Smock.

The next meeting, Jan. 15, will be a business session with an executive session at 7 o'clock and business session at 7:30.

Registration for Surplus Food

A registration for surplus food will be held on Friday afternoon from 1 until 2 o'clock at the Washington Township Fire Hall. Arnold City Polish Hall and the Belle Vernon Borough Building.

This registration is for both those who have previously signed up and new registrants. New registrants must present identification cards and any person registering for a family unable to register because of illness must have a note signed by a member of this family. Children under 17 years of age cannot register.

Persons on public assistance must present the eligibility form received with, their December checks or a duplicate. Those partially employed must present a record of their earnings.

Amerigo Franceschi Named To Fill Council Vacancy

Amerigo Franceschi was unanimously appointed to fill the unexpired term of North Belle Vernon Councilman Curtis Wells, at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the borough building and Myford Michener was elected to fill the office of council president.

Wells resigned both the presidency and as a council member at the December meeting.

Michener was temporary chairman for the session, which was attended by Donald Pender, Joseph Tintori, Tony Stringhill and Ross Boston, council members, Burgess Leroy Jones, Solicitor E. J. Morell, Treasurer Cameron Lowry. Secretary Samuel Venneri assumed his duties.

Retiring Secretary Leo Hirenbaugh prepared and presented a tentative budget for 1957, which will be posted at Thompson-Githens Agency before being finally adopted.

There are no major changes in the budget and tax assessments remain the same, 15 mills on the general fund, five on the sinking fund and a $5 per capita tax.

The members agreed to attend the Westmoreland County Boroughs Association business session and dinner meeting, which will be held on Thursday, Jan. 24, at the Mountain View Hotel, at 6:30.

There was considerable discussion concerning a two hour parking limit in the business district, however no action was taken.

Other routine reports were given and it was announced that the planned sidewalk survey has not yet been made because of weather conditions.

Lions Minstrel Show Will Be Held in March

Dates chosen for the annual Belle Vernon Lions Club Minstrel Show are March 11, 12, 13 and 14. They were selected at a meeting of the minstrel committee, which was held after the regular Lions Club session on Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the First Christian Church.

Announcement was also made that try-outs for the end men roles will be conducted on Jan. 15 and the entire cast will get together for the first time on Jan. 20. There will be further announcement concerning the production at a later date.

There were 45 members present for the dinner meeting and the president, Maynard Jesick, was in charge.

Two new members, Vincent Vizza and Don Hotz were welcomed. Charles Berkhouse led in the flag salute and invocation was by David Scholl. Bill Mascara led in the group singing.

Routine reports were given and then Bernard Goldberg introduced the guest speaker, Rabbi Theodore Stampfer of the Kneseth Israe. Synagogue in Monessen. He discussed the principles of the Jewish religion and some of the ancient customs followed.

Book Review Presented to Mimirian Club

Mrs. Betty Saeger, of the Perryopolis Fine Arts Club, was presented as guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Mimirian Literary Society held at the home of Mrs. George E. Fee, of Fayette street.

She presented a dramatic review of the book and play, "Inherit the Wind" by Jerome Lawrence and Ruth E. Lee. Mrs. Saeger enacted some of the scenes from the production which is part of the story of Clarence Darrow's theory on evolution. The play's title was taken from the proverb, "He That Troubleth His House Inherits the Wind".

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. R. Terney and was well received. The president, Frances Lowman, was in charge of the meeting which preceded the program. There was roll call and the exchange of books.

Dessert was served to open the activities of the evening and table appointments were in flowers and crystal. Guests present along with the club members were Mrs. M. Stimmel and Mrs. Eleanor Hibbs, of the Fine Arts Club.

Week of Prayer Service Tonight

The first Week of Prayer service held on Tuesday evening and the service held last night at the First Baptist Church were well attended. The guest speaker, the Rev. David L. Hunter, of the First Presbyterian Church of McClellandtown was the speaker. The Rev. William Schatz and the Rev. S. George Clarke took part in the services.

This evening at 7:30 the third service will be conducted under the sponsorship of the Belle Vernon Ministerium and the Rev. James C. Puz, pastor of the host church, will be in charge. Special music will be presented by the First Baptist Choir.

Girl Scouts Hold Election of Officers

Girl Scouts of Troop Six met for the first session of 1957 in the Girl Scout Little House and elected new officers. Those named were Jolinda Pinciaro, president; Kathy Perry, vice president; Nancy Miller, secretary; Sherry Palfrey, treasurer and Linda Toth, reporter.

The meeting began with the horseshoe ceremony, the singing of the national anthem and the Girl Scout promise.

Jolly Club in Meeting; Prizes Are Awarded

The Belle Vernon Jolly Club resumed meetings on Tuesday evening after a several week suspension over the holidays. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Olive Palfrey, of Short street.

Cards were played and winning prizes were Mrs. Bertha MacDonald, Mrs. Mabel Stedman and Mrs. Palfrey.

The club members drew names for "secret sisters" for this year. Mrs. Julia Nesti was welcomed to club after a lengthy absence.

A card was written to Mrs. Steward Wells, the "club mother", who is spending the winter in Florida.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Lillian Mort, Loretta Palfrey and Mrs. Shirley Melvin.

In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mercy Michener, of Jean street.

Midwest Snow Storm

By UNITED PRESS

The worst storm of the winter howled across the Midwest and slammed into the Northeast today, piling up to a foot of snow in some sections and snarling traffic on drift-choked roads.

At least six traffic deaths were blamed on the storm, including one in the Southwest where wind gusts of more than 70 miles per hour ripped up blinding dust storms.

The storm piled an average of 4 to 10 inches of snow in the Midwest, and in some localities reached a depth of 12 inches. Heavy snow warnings were issued for portions of western Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Rhode Island as the storm surged eastward.

Snow packed highways reduced to a crawl in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana. Air travel was disrupted at several midwestern cities, but Midway Airport in Chicago remained open throughout the storm.

South of the widespread snow belt, a hazardous sheet of freezing rain iced highways in southern Kansas, northern Oklahoma and west-central Illinois.

The storm also dumped two feet of new snow in the higher reaches of the Colorado Rockies and several mountain highways were blocked by snowslides. Travel across the Continental Divide was reported hazardous.

Early morning temperatures included New York, 35, Miami 60, Chicago 17, Grantsburg, Wis., 18 below, Denver 11, Los Angeles 56 and Seattle, 37.

Delay in Rate Refunds

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today authorized Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. to delay making rate refunds pending outcome of its appeal from a Superior Court decision ordering rebates totaling about $286,000.

The Supreme Court granted a supercedeas which stays effect of a Nov. 13 Superior Court order that the company was entitled to only a 6.31 per cent rate of return instead of a 6.50 rate okayed previously by the Public Utility Commission.

The Superior Court had ordered rebates to more than 200,000 Manufacturers consumers in Western Pennsylvania on rates in effect from September, 1954 until December, 1955. The company, which had applied for rate increases totaling more than $2,900,000 for the period, appealed to the higher court and asked that it be permitted to delay the refunds pending final outcome of the case.

On Dec. 28, the Superior Court ordered similar refunds on higher rates in effect since last January.

Episcopal Church Membership Up

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Episcopal Church reports its membership during 1956 rose to a record total of 3,114,623, a 3.3 per cent increase in 12 months.

Statistics on the growth of the church, one of the oldest and largest U.S. Protestant denominations, were reported Tuesday night in the Episcopal Church Annual, an official yearbook.

SEVENTH BABY, ALL DAUGHTERS — Mrs. Helene Welacha, 37, a Chicago housewife, admires her seventh straight daughter held by nurse Elaine Rohlik in Mercy hospital. Baby weighed seven pounds, eight ounces.

Newsprint Firms to Boost Prices Again

MONTREAL (UP) — Several other Canadian newsprint firms were believed planning today to join the Abitibi Company and Consolidated Paper Corp. in raising prices by $4 a ton.

Consolidated, which ships most of its 899,000-ton annual production from Quebec mills to the United States, announced plans for its increase Tuesday. The raise will bring the price in New York to $134 a ton.

Abitibi started the latest series of price hikes with a similar announcement Jan. 2.

It was not immediately known whether Abitibi or Consolidated, which reported net earnings of $13,747,019 in 1955, would pass the boosts on to their Canadian customers. Quebec publishers normally pay $4 less than the New York price because of lower transportation costs.

Political sources forecast early intervention by Quebec Premier Maurice DuPlessis to protect newspapers in his newsprint-rich province. DuPlessis has said several times, and reiterated at a news conference last Friday, that he would invoke legislation providing penalties for newsprint firms if they fail to give Quebec newspapers a price break.

The premier said "charity beins at home" and warned producers that the government has he right to cancel their timber leases.

Allen Gammell, Consolidated's assistant sales manager, said the increase was the first since Jan. 1, 1956 and was needed to cover increased costs of such things as wood and transportation.

PUC Grants Fare Increase To Ferry Boats

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Public Utility Commission has granted five cent fare increases to two ferry boats operating on the Monongahela River, effective Jan. 13.

The fare hikes, granted to the Arensburg Ferry Co., Rices Landing, and the Fredericktown Ferry Co., will be the first by the two companies in 30 years. The Arensburg ferry operates between Arensburg in Fayette County and Crucible in Greene County. The Fredericktown boat travels between the Washington County community and Fayette County across the river.

The one-way fare on each boat will go from 10 to 15 cents while round trips on the Fredericktown ferry jump from 15 to 30 cents. Round trips on the Arensburg boat increase a dime to 30 cents.

Both ferries plan to hike fares five cents for automobiles with two passengers and will inaugurate a nickel charge for each additional passenger. Truck fares also will be raised from 10 to 25 cents.

Station Wagon Owners May Pay Fee Increase

HARRISBURG (UP) — Three bills affecting motorists were in House committees today, including one which would set up special license plates for station wagons and boost their fees.

Republican Reps. Albert E. Strausser (Columbia) and George C. Magee Jr. (Crawford) authored a bill to provide a special $15 license for station wagons. At present the owners must pay a truck license if they use the vehicle for other than personal use.

Another proposal offered Tuesday would provide a $25 to $50 fine for illegally passing a stopped schoo bus, with a 10-day jail term if the fine was not paid.

The third bill called for the suspension of operators licenses of all persons ordered to court on drunken driving charges. The state would hold the license pending disposition of the case.

Overtime Rule Not Very Good

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Labor Department has decided that its holiday-week relaxation of overtime pay requirements affecting more than 24 million workers was not a good idea.

The department announced Tuesday that it is revoking, effective next Monday, the special policy adopted Nov. 14 regarding holiday week application of overtime pay requirements of the Fair Labor Standard and Walsh - Healey Public contracts acts.

The policy permitted employer-employe agreements for a day off preceding or following a holiday in exchange for a sixth day of work without overtime pay in the preceding or following week. The two laws require overtime pay for work beyond 40 hours a week.
